Strikers March to Labor Temple After Being Routed by Police Officers

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Launching a concerted attack as noon shopping crowds neared a peak in the business district, 500 street car strikers and sympathizers caused a traffic jam on Broadway and Hill streets at Eighth street today before they were dispersed by police tear gas.

Hundreds of shoppers were caught in the clouds of gas and fled with tears streaming down their faces.

Cutting of trolley guide ropes on several Broadway cars caused a quick congestion.

Police reserves, rushing to the scene in more than a score of patrol cars, herded the rioters off Broadway, but the mob reassembled on Hill street, a block west, and following the same line of attack soon had nearly 20 cars lined up on the tracks.

While members of the mob darted into the streets to cut the trolley ropes, hundreds of sympathizers stood on the sidewalks cheering.

The crowds of strikers and sympathizers were so dense that pedestrian traffic also was halted. Unable to move the mob from Eighth and Hill streets by other means, police threw gas bombs which soon had both rioters and spectators on the run. A half hour later police reported all quiet in the district, as car crews tied up severed trolley ropes and proceeded on disrupted schedules.

Strikers, meanwhile, re-assembled at Fifth and Hill streets and marched back to the labor temple at Fifth and Maple streets, with police watching throughout the march.

Rioting street car strikers climaxed their demonstrations today with a march on the city hall.

They demanded return of an American flag, seized when police, in a battle at Eighth and Hill streets, arrested a score of persons, including the leader of the demonstration.

More than 500 men were in the line of march. They were captured by a woman, who kept the paraders in order, four abreast, as they shuffled around and around the city hall.

Uniformed police marched alongside and at the rear.

The procession around city hall halted after three turns around that building. It turned back toward Broadway. Police still flanked the paraders on every side.

Other strikers and sympathizers joined the marchers. It was estimated there were 1000 in line as they reached Broadway again.

ATLANTA, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Louisiana State university today faced the possibility of being dropped from the list of accredited American colleges because of its alleged domination by Sen. Huey P. Long.

As the executive committee of the Southern Association of Colleges and secondary schools resumed its hearings of complaints against Long's relations with L. S. U., distinguished educators attending the convention condemned political interference with college administration.

Such men as Dr. W. P. Few, president of Duke university; Dr. R. E. Blackwell, president of Randolph-Macon college, and Dr. Thurman Kitchens, president of Wake Forest college, expressed concern at the charges that Long exercised a harmful influence over the college's affairs.

BOULDER DAM FILM WILL BE SHOWN PUBLIC

Register and Broadway to Exhibit Government's Pictures Tomorrow

AN EXCEPTIONAL opportunity for the general public to see official government moving pictures of the great construction project at Boulder dam will be given by The Register, co-operating with Lester J. Fountain, manager of the Broadway theater, when the film is screened at the Broadway theater tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

There will be no admission charge for seeing the unusual pictures of the work at Boulder dam. The Register and Broadway theater co-operating in the event as an educational, as well as entertaining, hour.

Produced by the government bureau of reclamation in cooperation with contractors in charge of the work at Boulder dam, the motion pictures are the most complete and outstanding of the type ever produced. Dr. Elwood Head, commissioner of the bureau, directed the production of the picture by authority of Harold Ickes, secretary of the interior.

Complete in every detail, the film shows the Colorado river flowing down through the gorges cut in thousands of years time, the danger of loss of property and life in floods and the harm to agriculture through depositing of silt on lands, how materials are obtained for the gigantic project, how a town sprung up on the Nevada desert to care for the thousands of workers, and actual construction work on the dam itself, a marvel of engineering genius.

Yesterday the film was shown to an enthusiastic high school audience, and today the junior college and junior high school students were admitted for the showing. Tomorrow the general public is invited without charge to see the picture at the Broadway theater, starting at 11 a. m. The film runs for an hour. It is an opportunity which should not be missed.

WILEY POST PLANS NEW RECORD FLIGHT

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Dec. 5.—(UP)—Wiley Post left early today for St. Louis to confer with Frank Phillips on the second stratosphere flight which he plans to make tomorrow or Friday.

Phillips, oil company executive, sponsored Post's attempt of Monday to set a new airplane altitude record.

It was decided to hold the barograph taken on the Monday flight, pending the new attempt. Post believed he set a record better than the 47,352 feet made by an Italian pilot last year, but no check has been made.

Light Company Bills All Marked "Paid"

MARSHALL, Ill., Dec. 5.—(UP)—Electric light users today received their bills from the municipally owned power and light plant—but they were all marked "Paid—Merry Christmas."

Officials of the plant said that income from the plant permitted the unusual Christmas present.

JOHN HAMILTON BELIEVED HELD IN WINDY CITY

Justice Agents Refuse to Confirm or Deny Outlaw in Custody

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Department of justice agents holding the young widow of George (Baby Face) Nelson in an unrevealed jail gave a semblance of confirmation today to reports they had arrested either John Hamilton or Alvin Karpis, outlaws of the Dillinger gang.

Confronted by direct questions, authorities here and in Washington refused to deny that the gunman who fought with Nelson last week in a battle at Barrington, Ill., in which Nelson and two federal agents were wounded fatally, is held secretly.

Agents of the division of investigation held Nelson's 21-year-old widow, Mrs. Lester Gillis, five days before revealing the fact yesterday. Under hours of grilling, it was reported, she disclosed the name of Nelson's accomplice in the slaying of Inspector Samuel F. Cowley and Herman E. Hollis.

Asked whether her information had brought arrest of the man, Attorney General Homer S. Cummings said:

"I will neither affirm nor deny that."

Inspector H. H. Clegg, asked the same question in Chicago, said:

"You are free to assume what you wish. I have no comment."

Capture of either Karpis or Hamilton would be one of the major coups of the year-old campaign in which federal agents and midwestern police have slain John Dillinger, Harry Pierpont, Homer Van Meter, Nelson, and four others of the crew of killers that rallied around a gang of convicts escaped from the Indiana State penitentiary at Michigan City.

Karpis is a St. Paul gunman accused of complicity in the kidnapping of Edward Bremer, St. Paul banker. Hamilton was a leader of the gang in which police say Dillinger was only a ruthless killer. Reports that Hamilton died several months ago of wounds received in a brush with peace officers are discredited by the federal men.

Government agents maintained a mystery about every phase of Mrs. Gillis' detention. Arrested at 10 p. m. last Friday, she was held until late yesterday in special detention cells in the ancient Bankers' building, Chicago headquarters of the department of justice.

BORAH CLASHES WITH COUZENS ON LIBERALISM

Demands for Reorganization by Idaho Senator Drawing Fire

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(UP)—The senate's ablest orator and its richest member, both independent Republicans, clashed personally today as two more colorful figures stepped into the boiling fight over reorganization of the Republican party.

The touch of personal conflict was injected into the situation by William E. Borah of Idaho, the orator, and James Couzens of Michigan, the wealthy senator.

Those offering new suggestions for revision of the party were Col. Theodore Roosevelt Jr. and Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, both of whom declared the party must move into more liberal ground.

The wrangling between Borah and Couzens broke out over the very thing which liberals have contended is wrong with the party's conservative leadership—lack of a platform.

Borah's repeated blasts against Henry P. Fletcher, Republican national chairman, drew from Couzens a challenge for Borah to take leadership in reorganization of the liberal party and begin the movement at once by an announcement of a liberal platform.

Borah is sensitive to recurring claims that he is a great starter of fights but a weak finisher. He retorted to Couzens:

"I'll draw that platform, and its first plank will be for taxation of securities which at present are tax exempt."

BATTLE FLEET OFF FOR SAN FRANCISCO

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Dec. 5.—(UP)—Eighty-seven ships of the United States fleet left their San Diego and San Pedro bases today for three days of mock warfare and a week's visit to San Francisco.

More than 100 airplanes and the dirigible Macon accompanied the fleet which was split into two factions. The blue, or defending force, was under the command of Vice-Admiral T. T. Craven, and the black, or invading force, was commanded by Rear-Admiral Henry V. Butler.

Until the fleet reaches San Francisco Saturday, the two forces will wage mimic warfare off the coast with the aircraft participating as combatants. Simulating an invading force, the black fleet will strike at two state points which the blue forces will attempt to intercept the "enemy" before it comes within gun-range of the coast.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS IN SOUTH AMERICA

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Dispatches from five Central and South American capitals today described alarming earthquake shocks of great intensity Monday and yesterday. Severe damage was done in some small towns. So far there were no reports of casualties.

There was a 40-second quake in northern Chile yesterday morning, with some damage. At 12:25 p. m. there were shocks in Southern Peru, to the north of Chile. People of several towns were thrown into panic, but no damages or casualties were reported.

A strong shock lasting 40 seconds was reported from La Paz Department in Bolivia. It was the first earthquake in that country since 1920.

Guatemala felt strong tremors Monday.

One Man Is Killed And Seven Hurt

Film Extras and Volunteer Firemen Battle Blaze for Three Hours

BURBANK, Cal., Dec. 5.—(UP)—One man died and seven others were injured in a fire that spread widespread damage across the 30-acre Warner Brothers-First National studio lot before it was brought under control early today. Loss was estimated at $300,000.

Albert M. Rounder, 65, chief of the studio fire department, was overcome by smoke and died of a heart attack after directing 100 firefighters fight the spectacular blaze.

Those injured:

Earl Baldwin, scenario writer, face cuts.
Nick Potoff, film extra, fractured right foot.
Rudolf Hopp, extra, undetermined injuries.
Flava Slankovich, extra, broken left leg.
J. McFarland, studio fireman, lacerated back and bruised foot.
E. P. Randolph, Burbank fireman, first and second degree burns.
G. L. Rowe, Burbank fireman, lacerated hand.

In the smoldering ruins that covered approximately 40 acres, studio officials checked off the following losses:

Film Destroyed
Five scene docks, plumbing shop, sheet metal shop, cabinet shop, pattern shop, four outdoor sets, garage and truck sheds, the film library containing six vaults of "morgue" pictures, 2,000 feet of new lumber, a $11,000 camera "boom" or crane, eight tractors, the sandblasting shop, and 10 carloads of new "prop" furniture.

All were destroyed in a three-hour assault of smoke and flame apparently originating from sparks from the machine shop.

But only for a lucky shift in wind the damage would have been much greater. One million dollars worth of standing sets, exposed to the fire, were saved when the stiff wind veered. Ten sound stages, housing valuable equipment, and the administration building also were saved.

Rounder died while enroute to a hospital. Since 10 p. m. last night he had supervised an army of volunteer firemen, including Dick Powell, the actor; Jack L. Warner, studio vice president and production chief, and a host of other notables who work on the lot.

Extras Fight Fire
Potoff, Hopp and Slankovich, the three injured extras, were among the first to discover the fire. With 70 other extras, they had just quit work in filming a musical scene in Paul Muni's

THREE KILLED AS MAN RUNS AMUCK

STOCKTON, Cal., Dec. 5.—(UP)—Joseph Spinetti, a bartender known as "Black Joe," ran amok early today, killing three men before he committed suicide, police reported.

His victims included Louis Pagano and Louis Dalucchi, both bartenders and an unidentified man, a customer in one of the barrooms the half-crazed man visited during his murderous tour.

Police, trying to piece together the details of the tragedy from excited gesticulating Latins, learned that Spinetti entered the Columbus Hotel and started conversing with Pagano.

The bartender started to duck behind the bar as Spinetti drew a gun and fired. The bullet passed through Pagano's head. Another shot from the gun struck down the unidentified customer.

Spinetti rushed from the hotel and entered another barroom. There he shot Dalucchi through the heart, then he turned the gun on himself, sending a bullet into his temple.

All four men were dead when police reached the scene.

THEIR FATE IS UNKNOWN

Here is the crew that is down somewhere in Mid Pacific in the Star of Australia in an ill-fated flight from Oakland to the Antipodes, via Honolulu and the Fanning and Fiji Islands. Left to right are Capt. Charles T. Ulm, pilot; John Skilling, navigator and George Littlejohn, co-pilot.

NO WORD IS HEARD FROM LOST PLANE

Seaplanes, Destroyers and Submarines in Greatest Mid-Pacific Hunt

WEATHER IS CLEAR

Navy and Army Pilots Refuse to Give Up Hope and Believe Men Alive

HONOLULU, T. H., Dec. 5.—(UP)—The greatest search of the mid-Pacific ever undertaken began at dawn today with the army, navy and coast guard co-operating in the attempt to find two companions.

Ulm and his plane, the Stella Australis, had been down unheard from for 24 hours. The fliers had taken off Monday afternoon from Oakland, Calif., for Honolulu on the first leg of a projected trailblazing flight to Australia.

After a score of ships had patrolled the waters around the Hawaiian Islands throughout the night, piercing the skies with their searchlights and with lookouts searching for signal flares which might indicate the whereabouts of the missing plane, army and navy planes set out this morning to co-operate in the search.

Seaplanes Ready
The navy had 20 seaplanes ready to cruise in relays over a 250-mile radius from Honolulu.

Major Ernest Clark, commander of Wheeler Field, sent two Douglas amphibians to the north beyond the island of Kauai to determine if Ulm could have come down in that region. If they find nothing there they will proceed eastward before returning to their base.

Another army amphibian took off to cruise over the waters to the southwest.

Major Clark was holding in readiness a group of land planes to join the search should it develop that they might be useful.

Navy seaplanes were co-operating with submarines, destroyers and mine-sweepers which have divided the area around the Hawaiian Islands into a huge checkerboard through which they will cruise until every square mile of the sea in a radius of more than 200 miles will have been scanned by human eyes for some trace of the Stella Australis.

Weather Is Clear
The weather this morning was clear and the sea calm, factors greatly in favor of both the survival and the possible immediate discovery of the aviators and their plane.

Although the plane's radio has not been heard since 11:47 A. M. (PST) yesterday, observers here said no great importance need be attached to the silence. With the plane floating on the surface, its motors dead, quite possibly no source of energy for the radio was available.

Naval and army fliers refused to give up hope, saying that with the precautions which experienced aviators would take to protect themselves, such as lightening the plane, sealing the gas tanks so they would not fill with water and possibly even jettisoning the two motors, once the plane was landed on the surface it should remain afloat, although possibly largely awash, for another 24 hours.

SUIT IS FILED TO BREAK LEE'S WILL

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—(UP)—A contest over the automobile and radio millions of the late Don Lee entered preliminary stages today with the filing of a suit to award Geraldine May Lee, his third wife, a $2500 monthly allowance until the estate is probated.

Mrs. Lee, who was not mentioned in his will, claimed in her suit that he induced her to sign a document she believed was a waiver to his fortune in the event she divorced him. Actually, the document waived all claims to his estate in return for $25,000 she was to receive at various times.

Claiming she was not acquainted with these provisions, Mrs. Lee contended she never received any part of the money and had only $29 when the wealthy automobile magnate died last August, three months after they were married.

BERLIN, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Miss Isabel Lillian Steele, of Hollywood, Cal., may sail for New York on the President Harding from Hamburg Dec. 11, American consular officials said today.

Miss Steele, held since Sept. 10 on indefinite espionage charges, is to be released by the Nazi police and ordered to leave the country.

She was studying music here.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Irene Du Pont, leading member of the Du Pont Power company, challenged the senate munitions committee today to summon former President Hoover and others who might have information concerning charges that arms manufacturers sought government aid to block world-disarmament efforts.

Cooperatives Seek State Relief Funds

APPLICATIONS FOR $116,344 ARE SUBMITTED

Cooperatives in Orange county today were looking forward with interest to plans through which it is expected that part of the $24,000,000 bond issue for relief voted at the last election by the people will be available for cooperative organizations in Orange county and other parts of the state.

At a meeting held yesterday in the state building, Los Angeles, representatives of Orange county cooperatives met with a state legislative committee appointed to make a survey of the self-help cooperative plan in the state.

Representatives of the United Cooperative Exchange of Orange county, representing 14 units in the county, made tentative application for $100,000 of the state relief money, while the United Cooperatives of Orange county applied for $16,344. The latter group is comprised of six units.

The amounts sought are merely tentative and are flexible, should it be found that the money will be available. If secured, the funds would be used for furtherance of production projects, for payment of public utilities, rent, clothing and materials, gas and oil, etc., for an expanded program of self-help.

E. T. Mitchell, general chairman of the Exchange group, said the state legislators appeared to be in sympathy with the cooperative movement, and would do all they could to aid in securing the funds.

BRANDT AND CAPLES AHEAD IN CONTEST

With the end of the contest drawing near, Register carrier boys are scrambling for points to earn places in the group of 26 who will earn cash prizes on December 15 in the "Cash for Christmas" contest.

George Brandt, jr., of Laguna Beach, is now leading the suburban carriers with 94,000 points and R. M. Caples of Orange is next with 70,000. In the city division, Duane Teel, No. 42, is leading with 72,000 points and Bry Marston, No. 26, is second with 40,000. Duplicate prizes will be given to the first 15 carriers in each division, with $300 to be awarded.

SAAR REPORT IS READY FOR LEAGUE FILES

The latter include the city of Saarbrücken $3,000,000 loan of 1925, floated by Ames, Emerich and Co.; the Zweckerband Association of the Saar district $4,000,000 loan of 1925, floated by Ames Emerich, the Central Trust of Illinois, the Federal Securities Corporation and Strupp and Co.; the Hypothekbank of Saarbrücken $2,000,000 loan of 1927, floated by Ames Emerich and Strupp; and the City of Saarbrücken $3,000,000 loan of 1927, floated by Emerich and Strupp.

The first two loans mature on March 31, 1935, approximately the time that Germany takes possession of the Saar if victorious in the plebiscite.

Establishment of an international police force to maintain order in the Saar was proposed to the council tonight by Pierre Laval, French foreign minister.

Britain and Italy announced they could contribute troops if the police force is created.

Both Anthony Eden of Great Britain and Baron Popeo Aloisi of Italy supported Laval's proposal, and announced their countries were ready to send troops into the Saar.

Such a force is permissible under the Versailles treaty if the league commission governing the Saar considers the troops needed and asked for them. Geoffrey Knox of Great Britain, head of the league's Saar commission, already has made the request in preparation for the Jan. 13 plebiscite, which will determine whether the Saar goes to Germany or remains under league government.

The atmosphere for agreement was favorable as the important debate started.

Laval announced that France would abandon her right to send troops into the region if the council provides an international force.

"I ask the council to assume the responsibility which the French government was, and is still prepared to assume," he said.

NEED FOR COOPERATION AMONG NATIONS STRESSED IN TALK ON PEACE PROBLEM

That the whole world is headed for another war, if signs that have preceded wars for the past 3000 years are to be believed, and that war can only be diverted by establishment of a world alliance for mutual assistance and by keeping alive in this and coming generations the truth about war, was the warning given by Dorothy Thompson, journalist who has covered European news for many years, in a talk on "The World Peace Problem" at the Orange County Forum at Fullerton Union High school auditorium last night.

GAS INDUSTRY INVESTIGATION WILL BE ASKED

up "good-will" with the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, state utilities commissions, the radio, bankers, insurance companies and civic organizations.

"This campaign was aimed to spread the doctrine that holding companies are highly essential in the utility system to insure unified, economical and technical management," the commission said. Prominent utility officials were quoted as saying that "in fighting government ownership, he should enlist the support of other business organizations, which are or may be subject to similar attack."

The commission said that utilities often placed large non-interest bearing deposits with small banks to obtain good-will.

Women's clubs, the report added, heard utility speakers, who said "government ownership would be the first step to the nationalization of all industry, which might ultimately result in a condition similar to Russia."

The commission quoted a letter from A. F. Hockbeamer, president of the Pacific Gas and Electric company.

"During our two big campaigns," he said, "against the so-called water and power act—a scheme to put California in the power business with an initial issue of half a billion of bonds—they literally sent out hundreds of thousands of personal letters and pieces of literature to their depositors and stockholders as well as campaigning against the act personally."

Couzens, multi-millionaire whose fortune was founded with the Ford automobile, is known to have most of his money in that very kind of security. He replied:

"I've never heard Senator Borah make such a proposition in the senate, but if he does, I'll be glad to support it in spite of the fact that Borah believes it unconstitutional."

Couzens then revealed a bit of history. He recalled a luncheon attended by Borah, Republican leader Charles L. McNary of Oregon and himself, at which he and McNary offered to finance a Borah-for-President movement.

It was 10 years ago. "All we asked was that Senator Borah draw up a budget and plan of campaign," Couzens said. "We heard nothing from it."

"I've been greatly obliged to Senator Borah since for the refusal to accept that offer, for if he had it would have been a very terrible catastrophe for the country."

Borah Aroused Borah appears to be more aroused over reorganization of the Republican party along liberal lines than any other of the crusades in which he has engaged recently.

It is believed among his friends that he will do exactly what Couzens asked—sound the revolt call and summon other independents to his banner.

The debonair and smiling McNary, meanwhile, slipped quietly into his office. While appearing to enjoy the situation, McNary was non-committal.

It was learned that he intends to invite progressive Republicans into party conferences as in the past. He expects, also, to make an effort in behalf of Sen. Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, now a progressive, so that La Follette may retain his committee assignments.

Borah demanded that the party rebuild along "constructive liberal" lines, forecasting its death unless this revitalization occurred. He presented three choices to Republicans—to go ultra conservative, to adopt extreme radicalism, or "to organize along modern and progressive lines, building ourselves up as constructive liberals." The first two suggestions, he indicated, were untenable to himself.

Borah's statement was seen as a plea against further internecine warfare in that he made no direct demand for resignation of the present conservative leadership. Pinchot said he was backing

Miss Thompson, introduced by Mrs. E. E. Smith, Anaheim, chairman of the evening, discussed in detail the conditions in Europe, the causes of war, the present status of the world as concerns war, and the way of peace.

In her opening remarks Miss Thompson, wife of Sinclair Lewis, author, said when talking on the problem of world peace she is talking on a subject nearest her heart, and a subject on which "I must talk with passion; I believe, firmly, that war or peace is a question of life or death of the human race; I saw one war; I have seen the results, and I have learned, while in Europe 15 years after this war, that wars breed wars; I also have learned that although wars have been always in practice, they must be ended."

Concerning Europe, Miss Thompson said it is an armed camp, such as has never before been known.

She branded the governments of Europe, in general, as impossible, illegitimate and "racketeer." She said every war office is cognizant that the next war will be won by the nation that moves quickest, to attack the population of the enemy. Germany, she said, has underground areas with stored war materials.

England, Miss Thompson said, is considering giving gas masks to every citizen. Italy, according to the speaker, has uniformed school teachers, and every child is instructed in war history and war technique; France is considering, as are others, increased war budget, and the small countries of Europe are spending more than 50 per cent of the total tax monies on war preparation. Added to this, the speaker said, Germany refuses to permit sold any books depicting pacifist movements or any books or literature telling the truth about the last war. "There is a mania, an insane fear permeating the whole situation," she said.

Concerning the futility of war, the speaker declared that the last war showed that no one won it, for there was and is no one who has collected anything; it is impossible to collect. She declared that wars have only multiplied all problems, and needs of the world for food have been supplied through scientific investigation.

The way of peace lies in a world alliance for mutual assistance, Miss Thompson outlined, and said that to accomplish such an alliance is the problem now. One great hindrance is "prestige, the attitude that breaks peaceful relationships, from marital to large groups of society. We need a new religion to cure us of 'putting on face,'" she declared.

This mutual helpfulness program would require a world court, a world police and an understanding of the term "aggressive nation," she said, should be any nation that will not arbitrate.

Among the many questions that were asked following the talk were two that aroused intense interest. One concerned the recent ruling of the supreme court that R. O. T. C. training be forced on all students attending land grant colleges. Miss Thompson said that that is a "bit of the hysteria that is permeating Europe today. Pacifists are being quelled in England, even, and in Germany are put into retention camps."

Concerning the training of youth along peaceful lines, a question was placed before the speaker as to what can be done when teachers are discharged for telling the truth about war. "Work for a type of government that allows truth to be taught," she said.

Miss Thompson expressed great faith in the United States. She pointed to the unusual attitude in North America, where two nations, Canada and United States, keep an armed guard along the 3000 mile border, and said American people have had liberty too long to have it taken away by the type of ruler that is at the head of the new governments of Europe.

A discussion of the talk will be taken up at the Charles Ruby forum Thursday at 7:30 in the old auditorium of the high school.

JUDGE TAKES HAND IN SELECTING JURY

WOODLAND, Calif., Dec. 5.—(UP)—Impatient over the wrangling of opposing counsel, Superior Judge Neal Chalmers today began questioning jurors himself in the second trial of Judson C. Duke, charged with the murder of Lamar Hollingshead.

Judge Chalmers evidenced a desire to speed the trial as much as possible when he took over the questioning of talemans. Borah's reorganization demand fully. "It is perfectly obvious," he said, "that the leadership of the revitalized Republican party must be by men rather than money."

STUDIO BLAZE BRINGS LOSS OF $300,000

newest picture, "Black Fury," when a swirl of smoke at the back of the huge lot attracted their attention.

They tolled at the fire lines until the blaze was controlled, three hours later. Mike Curtiz, the director, was with them, but Muni and principal members of the cast were not present.

The fire, turned from the sound stages, threatened for a short time to spread to adjoining Universal studios, but was checked before leaping across the boundary line.

Baldwin was injured when he grabbed an axe in an effort to help the firemen and was struck by falling timbers. The scenarioist was not seriously hurt.

More than 10,000 spectators were attracted to the scene by flames, which were visible 15 miles away in Pasadena. One of them was Helen Morgan, the torch singer, who made herself useful by serving coffee to the firemen.

Historical Loss The film library that was destroyed contained prints of pictures of the old Vitaphone company. This loss was chiefly historical, as the prints recorded a good cross-section of early film history. Warners acquired the Vitaphone company several years ago.

Jack Warner said production schedules would not be interrupted by the fire.

The fire spread with amazing rapidity. Fed by small explosions of powder, film or chemical, it was out of control within 30 minutes after discovery. Leaping a fence, it spread across dry brush.

Several one-story workshops and sheds went up in flames.

For a time, the fire threatened to reach the ten sound stages, and a powderhouse being used by road builders but the combined efforts of the Burbank fire department and several Los Angeles companies turned the flames.

One of the oldest major companies in the film industry, Warner Brothers, originally occupied a Hollywood plant but most of the production units were moved to Burbank when they acquired First National several years ago.

Among the stars who performed on the Burbank lot are James Cagney, Al Jolson, Ruby Keeler, Dick Powell, Joan Blondell, Guy Kibbee, Hugh Herbert, Marion Davies and Aline MacMahon.

YORBA LINDA FIRE DOES $5000 DAMAGE

Fire which endangered a packing house across the street and an adjoining duplex caused $5000 damage to the home of Mrs. Millie Kewish on Yorba Linda boulevard in Yorba Linda this morning.

Yorba Linda fire apparatus and two trucks from Orange with Joe Scherman in charge answered the call and succeeded in extinguishing the flames. The high win prevailing this morning carried burning shingles some distance. The property is owned by L. St. Onge, of Los Angeles. The flames apparently started from underneath the residence. The cause is not known.

GRAND JURY TO MAKE PROBE OF FRAUD CHARGES

The county grand jury has determined to investigate the Newport Beach city election fraud charges, and will actively open the probe at a hearing set for next Monday morning at the courthouse, it was learned today.

Probably 25 witnesses, mostly if not all residents of Newport Beach, but including no city officials, will be subpoenaed to appear as witnesses before the grand jury at that time, according to Deputy District Attorney James L. Davis, who is in charge of the investigation for the district attorney's office, working with the grand jury.

Decision of the grand jury was made, it was said, after Attorney Edgar L. Martin, Los Angeles, representing a group of Newport Beach citizens pressing the fraud charges, and D. H. Betten, district attorney's investigator, had appeared before the grand jury and presented evidence in their possession relating to the alleged election frauds.

Attorney Martin was afterward closeted with Deputy District Attorney Davis, going over the evidence and mapping out a course of action with respect to presenting it before the grand jury.

Martin and his clients charge that there was wholesale registration and voting of non-residents in the Newport Beach city election of last April 9; that voting lists were subjected to tampering; and that election boards were guilty of illegal conduct. "Our intention," said Attorney Martin today, "is not to punish every housewife who may have made some unwitting error while serving on the election board. We are after those guilty of intentional fraud in that election."

39 IN CLASS SEEKING U. S. CITIZENSHIP

Thirty-nine applicants for American citizenship are scheduled to take the naturalization examination in superior court with the semi-annual class December 12. It was shown in a list issued today by County Clerk J. M. Backs.

Considerably more than half of the class are British subjects, 24 of the 39 listing present allegiance to that country. Germany is next, with Sweden, the Netherlands, Mexico, Italy, and Russia also represented.

Fifteen of the class come from Santa Ana, seven from Anaheim, four from Orange, three from Fullerton, two each from Huntington Beach, Costa Mesa and Buena Park, and one each from La Habra, Placentia, Laguna Beach and Balboa.

The list of applicants follows: George H. Margots (England), Cyril Wild (England), Axel E. Sundstrom (Sweden), Anders V. Sundstrom (Sweden), Miss Marie E. Isabella (England), Mrs. Maria del Refugio Benzer Echevarria (Mexico), David R. Baxter (England), Robert S. Wade (England), Giuseppe Penna (Italy), Harold W. Johnston (England), Albertus J. Oosterkamp (Netherlands), Mrs. Hendrika M. D. Oosterkamp (Netherlands), William A. Gould (England), Frederick Cartwright (England), Mrs. Maude Cartwright (England), all of Santa Ana. Sven O. Sundstrom (Sweden), Rudolf Pasma (Netherlands), Miss Altagracia E. Juarez (Mexico), Mrs. Pearl J. Fitzgerald (England), Edwin Ziegler (Germany), Mrs. Lillian Vance (England), and the Rev. Samuel E. Schrader (England), all of Anaheim.

Richard Dietz (Germany), Harold Richardson (England), Mrs. Emma Eggert (Russia), and Cecil B. Hanson (England), all of Orange.

James P. Stedman (England), Anders K. Anderson (Sweden), and Paul C. Harris (England), all of Fullerton. Benjamin Davies (England), La Habra; Rudolf Gehring (Germany), Placentia; George F. Bird (England), Costa Mesa; Mrs. Fanny R. S. Smith (England), Laguna Beach; Charles H. McAlary (England), Costa Mesa; Peter Buchan (England), Balboa; Mrs. Alma L. Webber (England), and Harry Appleby (England), of Buena Park.

Station Vending Machines Robbed

Entering the waiting room of the Santa Fe station while the telegraph operator was occupied outside, a thief early today robbed two vending machines of about 39 cents in change and several boxes of candy.

Operator Richard Lewis was loading a baggage car between 6:30 and 7:40 a. m., during which time one of the vending machines was pried from the wall and taken from the building, and the other broken open in the waiting room. Later, the missing machine was found hidden in shrubbery of the Southern Pacific station several hundred feet away, with the contents gone and the front smashed. A jack handle used to break the machines was dropped in the station and was turned over to police by P. W. Doane, station agent.

P-T.A. OPPOSES SERA DIRECTOR PLANS TO TAKE CASH FROM S. A. RELIEF WORK

Concurring with the stand recently taken by local merchants and business men opposing money-raising activities that are put on by out-of-town enterprises and take the major portion of the proceeds out of the city, the Santa Ana Council of Parents and Teachers executive board at its regular meeting yesterday at the city school administration building, decided that it should be their policy in the future not to consider such propositions.

"Tempting offers by out-of-town concerns are being constantly offered to us," said Mrs. W. E. R. Crawford, Council president, "but we do not feel that it is fair to local business men to accept. Because of our small dues and the fact that the Parent-Teacher associations do not solicit citizens for funds, we must have a certain number of money-raising activities to balance our budget. We have, however, decided very definitely that such activities shall be of the type that will guarantee that all proceeds go into the association treasury."

Christmas Aid
Plans were completed for a large committee, consisting of two members from each of the 10 elementary associations under the general chairmanship of Mrs. William Getty, Council Welfare chairman, to have charge of the charity matinee that will be given by the Broadway theater Saturday morning, December 15. Admission will be clothing, canned goods or toys, all of which will be turned over to this committee for distribution. Les Fountain, theater manager, promises a program of approved films for this matinee.

Various committee chairmen reported activities and impending. Mrs. R. E. Steinberger, chairman of association goals, checked requirements for standard associations. A membership check-up reveals 1275 members in Santa Ana and a concerted effort is being made to reach 1300 before Christmas.

Mrs. Mary B. Robertson, Mrs. John Mills, Mrs. Virgil Clem, and Mrs. Ray Adkinson were named on committee to select an outstanding parent-teacher worker as recipient for the life membership to be awarded by the Council at the Founders' Day luncheon in February. All money expended for life memberships goes directly into the state student loan fund to aid worthy students, it was explained.

Mrs. Sam Hurwitz, student loan chairman, also urged contributions to the local high school student loan fund.

Broadcasts Noted
Attention was called to the series of children's broadcasts being sponsored by the Council radio and music chairman, Mrs. Lorene Graves, over station KREG each Monday evening at 6:15 during the pre-Christmas broadcasts. These Christmas stories are being broadcast in cooperation with the public library, it was stated. Next Monday evening Miss Mary Sawyer, of the Children's library, will read "The Baby Camel that Walked to Jesus."

Plans were made for participation in trips planned by the Fourth district to a radio broadcast of the Standard Symphony hour at the RKO studios on December 6 and 13, and to Chinatown and Olvera street on December 15, under the supervision of Miss Hazel Nell Bemis.

A thorough review of the contents and usage of the state handbook was given by Mrs. Crawford.

At the next regular meeting on the first Tuesday in January would fall on New Year's day, the January meeting will be held on Thursday, January 2, at the city school administration building.

District P-T.A. Meet to Be Held Here Tomorrow

A Fourth District president's council of the Parent-Teacher association will be held tomorrow from 9:30 a. m. until 2:30 p. m. in the Spurgeon Memorial church, corner of Broadway and Church streets, Santa Ana. It was announced today.

Special conferences will be held for press, magazine and budget chairmen of the district, so presidents were urged to bring their committee chairmen with them. At noon a covered dish luncheon will be served.

In the afternoon Mrs. Evadne Perry, art supervisor of the county schools, will give a lecture on Mexico. She also will show motion pictures taken on her trip this summer through Mexico and bring an exhibit of pottery and cloth made by Mexican people. The lecture will start promptly at 1 p. m. and will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. It is open to the general public and anyone interested is invited to attend.

LIFE STORY

Mrs. Everett B. Parrott, wife of the evangelist, will tell her life story as a part of the Big Tent Cathedral at First street and range avenue tonight.

Mrs. Everett B. Parrott, wife of the evangelist now conducting revival meetings at First street and Orange avenue, will tell her life story at the Big Tent Cathedral tonight. It is announced.

Her narrative, telling how she came to join the Parrott revival party, is heralded as one of the most interesting features of the campaign thus far.

An ardent co-worker with her husband, Mrs. Parrott is regarded as an able song director, leading the revival singing nightly; also giving scriptural instruction to those desiring the evangelist's prayer for healing, it is said.

The Rev. Mr. Parrott will preach another prophetic sermon Thursday evening at 7:30 entitled, "The March of the Dictators." He will show how the use of dictators in various nations today is a literal fulfillment of Bible prophecy.

SMALL HOUSE DESTROYED BY BLAZE TODAY
A smoldering trash fire, whipped into flames by a desert wind at 4 a. m. today, set fire to a small house at the rear of the home of Charles Swanner, 2110 North Ross street, and burned it to the ground.

Sparks from the burning structure endangered several homes in the vicinity because of the wind but firemen put out the flames before any additional damage was caused. The value of the two-room house estimated at $75 and contents at about $300, included three valuable shotguns, a set of fishing equipment, and personal belongings of Swanner's son, who slept in the building.

The boy was aroused by the smoke and awakened other members of the family. A few furnishings were removed from the building but the flames spread so rapidly that most of the contents were destroyed. The entire loss was covered by insurance.

Local Briefs

Townsend club No. 1 will meet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the home of its president, A. G. Diehl, 609 East Chestnut street. The regular school board action in charging for the use of rooms for public meetings will be discussed, Diehl announced.

A meeting of Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension plan club number four will be held in the Church of Christ, Broadway and Walnut streets, tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced today.

There will be a meeting of the Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension club in the district from Fairview to Edinger and from Main street west, at 1138 South Ross street, Thursday, December 6, at 7:30 p. m. Fred Volmer will address the meeting.

H. W. Geyer, utilization engineer of the Southern Counties Gas company, will be the featured speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Santa Ana Lions club tomorrow noon in James Cafe, it was announced today by Secretary E. M. "Sunny" Sundquist. Don Jerome will act as chairman of the day.

Thrown from his bicycle when his foot caught in the wheel, Raul Castillo, 9, South Olive street, Orange, is confined in the Orange County hospital with a broken arm and severe cuts about the face and head.

Members of Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World war, will assemble tonight at the K. of C. hall for the only business session for December. The annual Christmas party will be held on December 19, plans and arrangements for which will be formulated at tonight's meeting, after which a program of entertainment will be given and lunch served.

Snow, Los Angeles; Mrs. Harry Sanders, Pico; Mrs. Harold Christensen, Mrs. Edward Thurnman, Mrs. Claude Reynolds, and Miss Molly Wolford, Buena Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Johnson were recent dinner guests at the home of relatives in Irvine Park.

10 PROJECTS IN COUNTY OKAYED BY STATE SERA

Ten new work relief projects were approved today for operation in Orange county which will furnish work to 250 persons, according to a report from Roy W. Pilling, SERA assistant administrator.

Included among the new projects approved by the state SERA was one for a school building adequacy survey to determine community needs in carrying out adequate educational programs. Vierling Kersey will supervise the work which the state department of education is sponsoring. Two persons will be employed and $240 has been appropriated for work relief labor.

Construction of a granite lined drainage channel on Walnut avenue was provided for in another project approved for the Orange County Flood Control District. M. N. Thompson, Orange county flood control engineer, will supervise the work. Twenty-seven persons will be employed as laborers and $5097 has been appropriated for work relief labor.

A county-wide library project to provide extra help in emergencies to city, county or school libraries in Orange county was approved. Terrence H. Halloran, Orange county SERA director, will supervise the work which the board of supervisors is sponsoring. The project will furnish work to 30 persons at a cost of $5550 to SERA for labor.

Drainage Work
A project for improvements to drainage, reconstruction of system of ditches, lowering grades in some portions, removing deposits to original grade in other sections and other improvement work for the Delhi Drainage district was approved. W. W. Hoy will supervise the project, for which $4000 has been appropriated for work relief labor for 20 persons.

Construction of the foundation of a library unit for the new Anaheim Union High school building project was approved in a project which will be employed as workers and $7359 has been appropriated for work relief labor.

A project to paint the outside woodwork on the academic, auditorium, fine arts and gymnasium buildings, outside and inside of the garage and woodwork around the playing floor of the gymnasium of the Orange Union High school was approved. A. Haven Smith will supervise the work. A total of six persons will be given work at a labor cost of $3800 to SERA.

Another flood control project sponsored by the Orange County Flood Control District and which will be supervised by M. N. Thompson was approved. This project, which will give work to 60 persons at a labor cost of $9000 to SERA, calls for cleaning and repairing breaks in levees and enlarge the drainage channel of Coyote creek.

School Jobs
A project to improve the grounds, construct a cesspool and septic tank at the Costa Mesa school was approved. Sponsored by the Costa Mesa school district, the project will be supervised by Perrine & Mackie. The work will give employment to 22 persons and $2810 has been allocated for work relief labor.

Grading and leveling ground and grubbing out and cutting up 225 orange trees was work approved in a project sponsored by the Valencia High school district at Placentia. Clara Woodward will supervise the work, which will give employment to 11 persons at a cost to SERA of $2226 for labor.

A city-wide recreation project designed to furnish playground directors for afternoon recreation was approved. The project, sponsored by the city of Santa Ana, will be supervised by Charles L. Weber. Santa Ana schools will furnish use of grounds since there are no adequate city owned facilities. Twenty-two persons will be employed as playground directors and swimming instructors. A total of $1485 has been appropriated for work relief labor.

Persons formerly on relief or full budgetary requirements on these projects. Because of the stagger system of labor employed on SERA projects necessitated by having workers earn only their budgetary deficiencies, a total of 750 workers can be absorbed on these projects.

PET MONKEY GIVES POLICE EXERCISE

Chasing monkeys through back yards is hardly one of the routine duties of a policeman but Motor Officers S. E. Lentz and B. A. Hershey, together with Poundmaster Harold Pickering, had such an experience yesterday afternoon.

M. E. De Vol, 112 Buffalo street, notified police that a ring-tailed monkey was running loose in his yard. Pickering and the officers went out to investigate and found a small marmoset, a tiny monkey, scampering around in the shrubs and trees. After chasing it for a few minutes without much success, the officers were informed by a neighbor that the animal was a pet owned by Mrs. Uora Bruns, 204 Buffalo street.

That solved the mystery and the big game hunters went back to their interrupted duties.

A. H. HALL NEW COMMANDER OF WAR VETERANS

Election of officers for the year 1935 was the principal business of Calumet Camp No. 26, of the United Spanish War Veterans at their meeting last night and the only contests that developed were between the Camp members and two candidates who were reluctant to be elected to office.

The principal officers were advanced one step, a course that this Camp has pursued for some years. Those elected were: Al H. Hall, commander; James A. Randel, senior vice commander; Chas. L. Reagan, junior vice commander; Hanigan Moberly, officer of the day; Adolph Erickson, officer of the guard; and Major Alfred P. Moulton, the retiring commander, trustee for three years to succeed Warren R. DuBois, whose term will expire.

Commander-elect Hall will choose his appointive officers between now and January 1, and probably will announce them at the next meeting of the Camp on December 20.

Some discussion arose over the question of holding the installation of officers at the first meeting in January which falls on New Year's Day and it was finally decided to install on that date despite the holiday.

The Camp voted to endorse the Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension Plan and passed resolutions to be sent to the President, the United States senators from California and to Congressman Sam L. Collins. They sent like resolutions to their auxiliary and asked that they be passed by that body which was agreed to by them and also voted to send copies of the resolutions to the following Camps and Auxiliaries in the Nineteenth Congressional district accompanied by a letter asking them to pass and send the resolutions: San Bernardino, Redlands, Riverside, Colton, Hemet, Corona and Fullerton.

U. S. CHAMBER MEET IN L. A. TERMINATES

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Voicing an expression of faith in President Roosevelt, Dr. A. H. Glanville, executive chairman of Bank of America, brought to a close the two-day meeting of the western division of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The convention, which adjourned with a sweeping denunciation of Communism, was followed today by a short session of the California State chamber.

Recognizing the "overwhelming popularity of the president, Glanville said the future of banking in his hands seems assuring.

"I think his speech before the American Bankers' association a few weeks ago was reassuring, and showed unmistakable signs that in the new relations between the administration and bankers of the United States rancher has yielded to a sense of reality," Glanville said.

The banker spoke against the creation of a central bank.

ROBBERY REPORTED; VICTIM DISAPPEARS

Puzzle: a robbery is reported but no victim can be found. That was the queer situation confronting sheriff's officers today following a report of a holdup of a female and proprietor yesterday afternoon at Orange thorpe road and Placentia avenue.

A man giving the name of Bob McGinnis telephoned Anaheim police and said he had just been held up and robbed of $15 by two well-dressed Negroes on a motorcycle. When sheriff's officers answered the call, after being contacted by Anaheim police, no female stand was to be found at the corner.

There's nothing to do until McGinnis holds up with more details of the holdup.

Utopian Society Leader to Speak At Forum Session

FULLERTON, Dec. 5.—Dr. Robert Noble, of Los Angeles, will appear at the forum session conducted by Charles Rubey Thursday evening at the Fullerton Junior College auditorium. He will come as an authorized speaker of the Utopian society, according to A. A. Montgomery, educational supervisor for the organization in Fullerton, and will present the aims and methods of the society.

Dr. Noble is considered by Utopians as one of their most eloquent speakers and was selected in September to address the mass meeting of Utopians held in Gilmore stadium, when more than 15,000 were present.

The forum meeting is open to the public without charge. This will be the first time that the principles of the Utopian society have been made a matter of forum discussion in Orange county. It is the second public meeting at which an authorized speaker from Utopian society headquarters has been delegated to speak in this county.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Dec. 5.—(To the Editor of The Register:—) In legal game, two California college students versus U. S. Supreme Court. U. S. Supreme Court wins, score, court, 9; students, 0. College boys get awful smart nowadays, but that old Supreme Court has still got quite a bit on 'em.

Speaking of colleges, I feel sorry for Huey Long, believe his team was as good as Tulane (if not better) but they didn't kick goal after touchdown. The first bill to be passed by the next sovereign State of Louisiana's Legislature will read as follows: "In accordance with, and in defense of State rights, any football kicked through goal after touchdown is null and void, unless done so by University of Louisiana." It's the one bill that he overlooked last fall, so he has nobody to blame but himself for not being in the sugar bowl New Year's Day.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

$13,000 SERA FENCE PROJECT GETS APPROVAL

FULLERTON, Dec. 5.—The SERA has approved plans for a high fence about the Fullerton baseball park at a total cost of about $13,000, according to a report made at the city council meeting last night. Mayor William Hale presided.

Herman Hiltcher, city engineer who made the report, also reported on other project work, and was asked by councilmen to work out SERA projects for tearing down an old house in Hillcrest park, for completing the fountain back of the wall, for adding playground territory to the park by improving the land south of the big reservoir for the purpose, and for landscaping and building a retaining wall by the American Legion hall. Construction of an arched bridge at Basque avenue, across the barranca west of the more connected part of the city is desired and Hiltcher was asked to present plans.

Other business included the passing of three ordinances after a second reading, including the wheel tax ordinance, which places Fullerton in a class with other cities of Orange county in collecting from rolling trade vehicles. This ordinance was held up for some time in an effort of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce to get cither to consider the modification or the elimination of such a program.

Another ordinance was concerning ambulance chasing. A third concerned sale of cheap electrical equipment in stores, setting a standard on types handled.

Walter Humphreys, engineer, and representative of the city on the Metropolitan Water board, made an appeal for councilmen to reconsider the Elliott plan for county wide flood control. He called attention to the need of a co-ordinated program, and said the Elliott plan, generally, is as basic a proposition as can be agreed on. Councilmen took no action.

Fence about the ball park will be made up of seven and a half foot stone pillars, set 20 feet apart, and having between them two panels, each approximately three and a half feet high, on hinges, so the top can be dropped behind the lower, which will be covered with shrubs on the street side, except when a game is in progress. Work is expected to start at once on the new project. This is an innovation in fences, and has created much interest, according to councilmen.

STRAWN IS BLAMED FOR BAN ON FORUM

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Silas Strawn, trustee and past president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, was blamed tonight by officials of the Town Hall of Washington, a fashionably sponsored forum group, for an order by the chamber closing its auditorium to further meetings of the group.

Huston Thompson, Washington attorney and president of the Town Hall board of trustees, said Strawn had objected to using the chamber's hall for a series of winter programs because it included such speakers as Norman Thomas, Lewis Corey and Maurice Hindus.

Sneak Thief Gets Cash From Purse

A sneak thief who took $27 from a purse in a wall closet in the home of Mrs. M. A. Durbin, 931 Spurgeon street, early yesterday afternoon, is being sought by police.

Mrs. Durbin reported that she left the purse in the closet while she worked in her yard for an hour.

CITY COUNCIL PARK PROJECT WINS APPROVAL

A project submitted by the Santa Ana city council for clearing the site for work and excavating the channel, construction of a bank protection and grading adjacent areas for the development of a park and recreational areas on Santiago street was approved by members of the Orange county SERA committee at a meeting yesterday afternoon.

The project will employ 150 men at a cost of $10,832 to SERA for labor and $5000 to the city for materials and supervision. The project now goes to state SERA headquarters for final approval.

Intended to fit it with a similar project recently launched by the board of supervisors, the Santa Ana project would take the county project from Santiago street on to Main street. The county project goes from Santiago to Glassell avenue, Orange, tying in with the Orange city park project.

According to T. H. Halloran, county SERA director, the park projects are particularly desirable because they will furnish work to largest numbers of men and will be of great value to the public when completed.

DEMANDS CURB OF LIQUOR INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(UP)—America celebrated the first birthday of post-prohibition legal drinking today, and between toasts took a look at the record.

Here are some of the things the record showed:

Demand for curbing the liquor industry arising in congress on charges of reversion to pre-prohibition practices.

Reports by the treasury department that bootlegging continues to cut heavily into tax revenues.

Other treasury reports showing repeal revenue in the first 11 months totaled $329,465,205.81.

An estimate by liquor dealers that consumers spent $1,500,000,000 for legal liquor in the first year of repeal. Some believe illicit liquor sales would double this total.

TOKIO COUNCIL TO ACT ON ABRIGATION

TOKYO, Dec. 5.—(UP)—The all-powerful privy council today received for formal consideration the proposal that Japan renounce the Washington naval agreement.

Emperor Hirohito referred the cabinet's recommendation to the council, which is expected to approve the action within the next two weeks.

Under council procedure, the plan will be referred to a committee of seven. After its report has been submitted and acted upon, word will be sent to the United States by the foreign office that Japan wishes to terminate the naval pact which limits her navy to the small end of the 5-5-3 tonnage ratio.

The foreign office, meanwhile, announced that termination would not be necessarily a signal for discontinuing the parleys at London at which Japanese, British and American representatives are laying the basis for the 1935 naval conference.

Breakfasters to Hear C. C. Leader

Members of the Orange County Breakfast club will hear a talk by Howard I. Wood, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce at the regular weekly breakfast club meeting tomorrow morning at 7:30 o'clock in La Casa Trabuco cafe, it was announced today by Jerry Hall, program chairman. Directors of the chamber of commerce will be guests. Musical numbers will include vocal duets by Jerry Hall and Ed Hall.

DAMAGE SUIT TRIAL OPENS HERE TODAY

Jury trial of a suit for $10,705.50 brought by F. E. La Point against the Federal Finance Company of Santa Ana was started today in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court.

La Point's claim was based upon a contract under which he purchased 11 trucks from the finance company in 1930, at a price of $18,942.02. He claims that he had paid $7423.01 of that amount by June 1, 1931, and was in arrears with his payments, so that an oral agreement was made, rescinding the written agreement, for payment of the balance. This was to be paid from the receipts of hauling contracts, he claims, the finance company being assigned the contracts, under an arrangement for collecting the receipts and keeping all but $60 to be paid La Point each week for living expenses.

Up to November 1, 1931, he claims, $14,588.52 was thus collected, exclusive of the $60 per week. Then, he said, the finance company took possession of the trucks.

La Point sued for the amount he had paid, plus $7423.01 for repairs on the truck, and the amount collected on his hauling contracts, a total of $30,773.55, less $11,503 which he estimated as the value of his use of the trucks.

PRESIDENT LEAVES TODAY FOR CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(UP)—President Roosevelt prepared to head northward for Washington late today with the outline of his 1935 legislative program which included recommendations for lifting restrictions on more than a half-million "little fellows" now subject to the Bankhead cotton control act.

Mr. Roosevelt last night announced his decision to remove restrictions on the small cotton farmers in a formal statement. The statement said:

"If the Bankhead cotton control act is continued in effect for another year it is my purpose to recommend to the congress an amendment granting an exemption for the full amount of his base production to each farmer who has an established base production of not more than two bales of cotton."

PENSION MEETING SET FOR SUNDAY

FULLERTON, Dec. 5.—A mass meeting of those interested in the Townsend Old Age Pension plan is to be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in the Methodist church. The address of the afternoon is to be given by G. Goldsberry, of Eagle Rock, according to an announcement by Mrs. Ruth Holcroft.

The Rev. David McKinley Sayers, La Habra Christian church minister, spoke to the Townsend Old Age Pension club at its regular meeting at the club headquarters, Malden and Amridge, Tuesday night. Mrs. Holcroft presided.

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Now that firing virtually has ceased on the field, shooting has started in old familiar galleries. It is the open season on coaches, and old grads, professional alumni, student publications and undergraduates all expect to bag the limit.

The largest turnover is anticipated in the east, where situations are uncomfortable for 10 or more mentors.

It is said that Eddie Casey will resign at Harvard. While few, if any, instructors could have done any better with the young and comparatively light Crimson material, it also is true that none could have fared any worse.

Wesley Fesler, the tall young man who played plenty of end and kicked for Ohio State in '28, '29 and '30, is reported in line for the top spot at Cambridge. Fesler's appointment would make Harvard the second member of the Big Three to abandon the graduate system and turn to the Big Ten for a head football coach.

Cornell snapped out of it long enough to shellack Dartmouth, but the embryo engineers have been chanting, "Out with Dobie" and Romney Berry, the graduate manager credited with keeping Gloomy Giff's head above water for the last five years, is seen in a mood to release his grip.

TWO LOSSES TOO MANY
Dr. Eddie Anderson, who played with the immortal George Gipp at Notre Dame, isn't exactly popular with all factions at Holy Cross. The Purple material was compared with that of Minnesota, Dr. Anderson lost only one regular. Red Kidd, and the squad was augmented by a splendid freshman team. It therefore goes without saying that the Worcester institution looked forward to one of its biggest seasons, and that successive setbacks by Colgate and Temple, each by a margin of two touchdowns, did not set well.

There are hints that Dick Hanley of Northwestern is to replace Joe McKenney at Boston college. There is dissatisfaction at both schools, although the Eagles emerged victorious in their last three starts—against Villanova, Centre and Boston university. It is the three consecutive reverses that preceded these games—at the hands of Fordham, Western Maryland and small Providence—that gripes supporters of the Maroon and Gold.

Northwestern dropped five major engagements, with an array that was believed promising at the outset. Vic Hanson's case at Syracuse is a striking example of how quickly a coach can be transformed from a hero to a harassed individual. The handsome alumnus was hailed as something of a wonder worker when the Orange completed a six-game winning streak by conquering unconquered Michigan State. Syracuse ran rough-shod over Cornell, Brown and Penn State. But just when firing virtually has ceased on the field, shooting has started in old familiar galleries. It is the open season on coaches, and old grads, professional alumni, student publications and undergraduates all expect to bag the limit.

PACIFIC'S POPULARITY GROWS

COLLEGES TO BOARD GRIDDERS?

BERKELEY, Dec. 5.—College of reference and non-conference schools. Monahan will be left to fight California's battles alone for Coach Stub Allison has elected to remain with the Bears. The new leader has plenty of work outlined for his charges before they board a boat for Hawaii December 14.

Coach "Gip" Madigan of St. Mary's will do a quick shift, leaving Kesar stadium after his Gales battle U. S. F. to take a plane for Palm Springs. There are a few wrinkles to be ironed out of the Gael schedule before next season's lineup is completed. Contracts with Ohio State and Notre Dame prevent Southern California from meeting St. Mary's next year, but Madigan has Oregon, Washington State and U. C. L. A. matters to settle.

Schedules for spring sports, including an enlarged baseball league, will also be drawn by conference delegates.

BASKETS BY ACKER, CONRAD STOP IRVINE
Wayne Garlock's Stars won a hotly-contested game from Irvine, 40-37, to inaugurate the second half of the Santa Ana Commercial league basketball season at the Y. M. C. A. last night.

The Seacord brothers, Emmett and Wilson, accounted for 24 points for Irvine, and the losers held a 27-26 edge at the end of the third quarter. Shots by Francis Conrad and Ernest Ackers, forwards, built up a 14-16 lead which meant the ball game for Garlock's in the final period.

The Cook-Patterson game with Goodyear Tires was postponed until 9:30 tonight, following another league contest between the Woolen Mills and Union Oil.

The Lexington and Saratoga airplane carriers each carry 70 planes. The Langley carries only 30.

DEAN SIGNS WITH CARDINALS

DONS TO MEET GLENDALE HERE IF VICTORIOUS

Glendale's Buccaneers, champions of the Western division, will invade the Municipal Bowl Saturday, December 15, to play Santa Ana for the Southern California jaysce association football crown.

—provided the Dons turn back Riverside in a play-off for the Eastern division title at Fullerton Saturday.

If Riverside's favored Bengals dethrone Santa Ana's champions, they will contest for Southern honors against "Sad Sam" Temerson's Glendale outfit at Riverside.

These arrangements are in accordance with an association ruling which alternates the annual game. Santa Ana defeated Los Angeles, 7-6, for the Southland championship in Los Angeles last December.

Although Taft and Modesto, respective winners of the Central and Northern California titles, are reported to have issued challenges to the winner of the Santa Ana-Riverside-Glendale series, there is slight possibility that a further play-off will be conducted. A game between the Southern and Northern champs could not be scheduled earlier than December 22, a date right in the middle of the Christmas holidays for all schools.

In case of a tie between Riverside and Santa Ana Saturday, first downs may decide the Eastern division play-off, although no definite action has been taken on this provision, according to McKee Fisk, Santa Ana dean. If the two schools are unable to reach an agreement, the conference commissioner, A. W. McDermoth of Pomona, must decide how a tie shall be settled.

The Dons and Bengals fought to a 14-14 deadlock at Riverside on their regular schedule. They pointed anxiously toward a return engagement as both claim to have improved tremendously since that thrilling game October 20.

Second guessers can't get it into their heads that when football teams play, one has to lose.

So it is that coaches have to keep up with, or be a step ahead of the procession at most schools. There is a precarious occupation, with old grads, professional alumni, student publications and undergrads taking potshots at the hindmost.

But as the late Tim Hurst said, in regard to baseball umpiring, "Think of the hours."

Fullerton junior college will receive 10 per cent of the gate receipts of the Santa Ana-Riverside-Glendale football game for the use of its stadium Saturday.

McKee Fisk, Santa Ana dean, today held a telephone conversation with A. G. Paul, Riverside director, to determine whether Riverside would agree to Fullerton's terms. The Riverside spokesman decided his college would rather play at Fullerton under such financial arrangements than consider a game in Santa Ana's Bowl.

Tickets went on sale here today at Vic Walker's Sporting Goods store and at the junior college office on North Main street. Adults and children will be charged 50 cents. Tickets for children may be purchased for 25 cents in presales.

DRUNK IS HELD FOR IMPERSONATING ERB
OAKLAND, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Charles Erb, former University of California football hero, was vindicated today of charges that he had been arrested here Oct. 27.

Erb claimed he was not in the vicinity at the time of the alleged arrest.

His claims were substantiated and the mystery was solved when authorities placed Irving Chin, Oakland, under arrest yesterday and charged him with having given Erb's name when taken into custody on intoxication charges.

Erb is a sports editor and football coach in Eureka.

EDDIE CASEY QUILTS AS HARVARD'S COACH
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 5.—(UP)—Resignation of Edward J. (Eddie) Casey as head football coach at Harvard, rumored since the middle of the past season, was announced last night by William J. Bingham, director of athletics.

The announcement was brief and expressed "deep appreciation" for Casey's nine years coaching at Harvard, first of the freshman team, later as backfield coach, and at the last four years as head varsity coach.

Casey's successor is expected to be named within a few days.

Sons of Red Dominate NEA's 1934 All-Coast Conference Team

A new "high university" mark for all-conference honors was set when sports writers of NEA Service newspapers throughout the Far West chose six Stanford stars on their annual NEA Service All-Pacific Coast Conference team. This is the highest number ever placed from any school on this annual selection. For the first time in many years, Southern California hasn't a representative on this all-star group, chosen by sports writers' votes.

CHICAGO BEARS PLACE FIVE ON ALL-PRO TEAM

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—The pick of the nation's fastest football league, the mythical All-American professional football team—is named today by the United Press.

The team has 11 players, plus Jack Manders, and was selected with the assistance of coaches, players, officials and scouts of the National Professional League.

Manders couldn't be left off, and there wasn't a fifth place in the backfield for him, so he was given the position of "honorary man."

Five members of the undefeated Chicago Bears, in addition to Manders, were named on the first team. The rest of the team was composed of three Detroit players, two from Boston and one from New York.

The second team is made up of four players from New York, three from Detroit, two from Chicago Cardinals, and one each from Green Bay and the Chicago Bears.

The first team backfield is composed of Earl "Dutch" Clark, Detroit quarterback; Beattie Fenters, Chicago Bears' halfback; Cliff Battles, Boston halfback and Bronko Nagurski, Chicago Bears' fullback. Add Manders, the greatest place-kicker of the decade and perhaps in history, and you have a coach's dream of the "perfect backfield."

The teams:

Pos.	Name	Wgt.	Team	College
QB	Hewitt	150	Bears	Mich.
TE	Lyman	246	Bears	Neb.
CE	Emerson	185	Detroit	Texas
CE	Hein	218	New York	Wash.
CE	Kopcha	222	Bears	Chattanooga
TE	Edwards	250	Boston	Wash. State
TE	Mitchell	205	Detroit	Davis-Ellins
QB	Clark	185	Bears	Colorado
HB	Heathens	195	Bears	Tennessee
HB	Battles	195	Boston	W. Va.
HB	Nagurski	230	Bears	Minn.

Honor Man, Manders, 206, Bears, Minnesota.

Second Team
Ends—Ray Flaherty (New York) and Bill McKelip (Detroit); tackles, Harry Field (Chicago Cardinals) and George Christensen (Detroit); guards, Tom Jones (New York) and Jules Carlson (Chicago Bears); center, Bernie Hughes (Chicago Cardinals); quarterback, Harry Newman (New York); halfbacks, Glenn Tressell (Detroit) and Ken Strong (New York); fullback, Clark Hinkle (Green Bay).

BREARDON SAYS CARD CLUB SALE NOW OFF
ST. LOUIS, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Sam Breardon, majority stockholder of the St. Louis Cardinals, today announced that his deal to sell the baseball club to Lew Wentz of Ponca City, Okla., is "off."

GRANGE QUILTS GRID AGAIN; MAY COACH
CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Harold "Red" Grange, star of collegiate and pro football, today announced his retirement as an active player after 11 years in the game.

Next year he will seek a coaching position, he said.

It was reported he has been made an offer by the University of Florida.

GARDEN DESOLATE AT 6 A. M. But Six-Day Bike Riders Keep Moving In Circles SHOW STARTS; SPEED BEGINS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Madison Square Garden, 6 o'clock in the morning.

You walk into a lobby that has the air of oppressive desertion that only a place normally all hustle and bustle can muster. The slight, tired little watchman in blue and the scrubwoman are the only ones about. Concession booths are locked.

The bronze, life-size Muldoon boxing trophy stands desolate in a corner. The sound of your footsteps comes back in echo.

Up the ramp and to the press box you go. It's empty, the grasshopper chirps of the telegraph "bugs" and the clatter of the typewriters stilled. But you are not alone, for down on a white pine track that resembles a giant inverted derby brim, the six-day bicycle riders are riding—riding, riding to nowhere.

There are 14 of them—14 adult men, wearing long woolen draw-overs, pull-over sweaters, and smelling of liniment. Strung out Indian file, yet so close together wheels almost brush, their pace is slow; so slow as to give the effect of a monster caterpillar crawling blindly in circles. Round and round they go, speaking not a word, their eyes heavy with sleep, their faces as expressionless as pies.

The only sound in the vast building is the soft purr of the silk tires on the pine plankings. You cough. It sounds like an explosion, and the riders lift their eyes to see who is watching them.

A second later, however, their heads bob down again, shoulders hunch over, and the caterpillar resumes its dull, dead crawl.

The public must be pleased.

SANTA CLARA'S OFF FOR TILT IN TEXAS
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Santa Clara's football team was Texas-bound today, headed 28 strong for Fort Worth and an intercollegiate clash with Texas Christian university Saturday.

The West coast aggregation, beaten only once this season, by St. Mary's, and with a 7-7 tie against Stanford on its record, plans to stop at El Paso tomorrow for a brief workout. They are due in Fort Worth Friday.

The Californians appeared none too confident of success against the Texas team which recently ended Rice Institute's undefeated march.

Luckless Troy Team Loses Ward Browning
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—(UP)—The luckless Southern California Trojans suffered a body blow today with the loss of Ward Browning, first string right end.

Browning was counted out of Saturday's Notre Dame game when physicians said his right leg was broken just above the ankle. Going down under a punt in scrimmage today, the 200-pound end tackled Bill Howard, and in the ensuing pile-up was left sprawling on the ground with a snapped knee.

His departure made the Irish the more pronounced favorites. Odds of 2 to 1 were quoted with Trojans followers displaying little interest. It was the second such casualty of the season. Several weeks ago Leavitt Thurlow, substitute end, broke a leg in scrimmage. Browning's place was taken over by Bob Fuhrer, alternate left end, who himself is nursing a broken nose.

Browning's loss was keenly felt by his teammates. Although his playing all season had been disappointing, he showed a surprising reversal against Washington last Saturday, and the team relied on him continuing his stellar work against Notre Dame.

The injury is believed serious enough to keep Browning off the Trojan basketball team, of which he is captain-elect, all season.

BONURA OF SOX BEST FIELDING FIRST BASEMAN

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Lou Gehrig nearly matched his league-leading hitting of last season with equally superb fielding.

The Yankee first baseman was second only to Hank Bonura, Chicago White Sox freshman, in fielding at first base in the American league. Bonura topped the circuit with an average of .956, two points better than Gehrig's figures.

Another release of official averages, which previously had given Gehrig the offensive championship for 1934 in homers and hitting and in other similar departments, reveal that Bonura made only five errors in 1321 total chances. Gehrig made eight errors in 1372 chances.

Second basemen were led again by Oscar Melillo of the St. Louis Browns, whose .981 was identical with the average he compiled in 1933 to take the leadership.

William Kamm, veteran Cleveland Indian, topped third basemen with an average of .978, and thus set a record as the first to lead at his position for the eighth season.

Lyn Lary topped the league's shortstops for the Red Sox with .965.

The veteran Sammy Byrd of the Yankees led the outfielders. In 104 games that brought him 160 chances he made only two errors for an average of .988. Al Simmons of the White Sox appeared in 134 games and ranked second with .987.

Rick Ferrell of the Red Sox set the pace for catchers. He finished with an average of .990 and made only six errors.

"Schoolboy" Rowe of Detroit led 16 pitchers who turned in perfect fielding performance. He had more total chances than any of the rest, 55, three of them involving double plays and did not make a bobbie. Willis Hudlin of Cleveland erred only once in 73 chances.

For the second straight season Washington was on top in club fielding, but this time tied with the champion Detroit Tigers, at .974.

Young Tommy Too Clever For Dado
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Young Tommy, Filipino whirlwind, squared his feud with "Speedy" Dado last night by scoring a decisive victory in 10 rounds at the Olympic.

Tommy completely outclassed his older opponent. He pointed for a knockout in the fourth but Dado would not stay down. In return, he himself was felled in the fifth but survived Dado's barrage and finished strong.

"Y" BASKETBALL
One of the feature games of the Santa Ana Church league basketball season will be played on the Y. M. C. A. floor at 8:30 tonight between the South Methodists and Mormons, who are undefeated and tied for first place in the standings with the First Christians.

The Woolen Mills, first-half champion of the Commercial league, opposes the Union Oil quintet in a 7:30 game.

TERMS OF 1935 CONTRACT NOT MADE PUBLIC

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Jerome Herman ("Dizzy") Dean, pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, telephoned Sam Breadon today from his winter home at Bradenton, Fla., that 1935 terms were acceptable. The exact amount was not known.

Breadon made the announcement from his office, adding that the volume Dean phoned him collect to the tune of $12.85 worth of the club's money to say:

"The terms you left are perfectly O. K. and I'm signing the contract right now and mailing it to you. Sam, it ain't every club owner who can sign Diz, you know."

Alabama Works Against Stanford Plays

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Dec. 5.—(UP)—Short signal drills tomorrow and Friday will occupy the Alabama Crimson Tide as it prepares for resumption next week of strenuous practice for a meeting on Jan. 1 with Stanford in the Tournament of the Roses.

Next week will open with a stiff fundamentals practice, to be followed later in the week by scrimmages.

Coach Frank Thomas has named Roy White, third string halfback, to enact the role of Bobby Grayson, Stanford's All-America back, in scrimmages. The reserves are being tutored in Stanford plays as known in the East. They will present them to the Tide in the first defensive scrimmage.

Arthritis Sends Ralston Gill Of Grid to Hospital

OAKLAND, Cal., Dec. 5.—(UP)—Ralston "Rusty" Gill, one of the University of California's greatest football stars, was a patient in Alameda county hospital today suffering from a severe attack of "rheumatic arthritis."

Doctors said that Gill temporarily was crippled by the attack, traced to an infection.

Considered the best player in the family of Gill boys who have worn the Golden Bear jerseys in football combat, "Rusty" has been in the prize ring, the movies and construction work since his gridiron career ended in 1931.

FULLERTON EXPECTS RIVERSIDE TRIUMPH

BY WILLIE Q. PRYOR
FULLERTON, Dec. 5.—With the Eastern division title at stake, Santa Ana and Riverside tangle in the Fullerton grid plant Saturday to settle any arguments as to which is the better team. This game has brought about considerable speculation among Fullerton grid followers, who have seen few good exhibitions of the autumnal sport in their back yard.

While Fullerton fans are elated over the possibility of a "bang-up" game in the stadium, the general consensus favors Riverside. The basis of this deduction is a better showing against Art Nunn's Yellowjackets.

Joe Public knows his football. "If Riverside plays the same brand of football it did against Fullerton and Santa Ana exhibits the same stuff it did against the Hornets, Riverside will win by two or three touchdowns."

Fullerton football followers didn't think much of the annual Don-Yellowjacket classic. "It was just a game between two mediocre eleveners. Neither played football as football should be played. The six-to-nothing score only indicated Fullerton was the weaker of two poor teams."

That's what the impartial Fullerton fans think about the jaysce grid situation, but you'll find him in the stands Saturday. He saw the Fullerton teams play indifferent football all season and considers the Trojans in the same class. So the Notre Dame game is out.

No Rain On Jan. 1, Says L. B. Expert

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 5.—Persons planning to attend the Pasadena Rose tournament on New Year's day may leave their raincoats, umbrellas and galoshes at home for while the day is not promised to be entirely bright and sunny, there will be no downpours, according to weather predictions announced today by Akano Imamura, local Japanese scholar, philosopher and weather prophet.

New Year's day will be partly clear, Imamura declared. There is a possibility of rain on New Year's eve, should there be a strong, southerly wind, he says.

Because of his accurate predictions, Imamura, who conducts a chop suey parlor on the Coast boulevard, has been dubbed the successor of the famous Gin Chow of Lompoc fame. Last year he predicted the heavy rain storm that swept the Southland on New Year's day, a whole month in advance.

TRUSTEES DISCUSS PLANS FOR SCHOOL

PLACENTIA, Dec. 5.—Many items of business occupied the time of the Placentia school board members Monday afternoon, when they met both as a grammar school and a Valencia High school body. LeRoy Lyon presided.

Plans were discussed for the new high school, with no action taken. T. C. Kiser, architect, has presented a number of plans.

A project has been allowed for taking out 325 trees on the new high school property, formerly five acres of the Leroy Grimm land, north of the Bradford site. SERA labor will be used. This has been purchased for the site, with a three-year contract signed, and a small down payment made on five acres of the Clarence Halber property, north of the Grimm tract.

The New Deal and the Joneses

Dad Learns RFC Is World's Biggest Banker Today

This is the fourteenth article of a series which takes the Jones family through the intricate workings of the New Deal and in which they find that the recovery program is easily understandable if talked over in simple language at the supper table and in the living room.

By WILLIS THORNTON
Chapter Fourteen

"Dad, who's the biggest banker in the world right now?" John's eyes twinkled a bit as he tossed the question across the supper table.

"Oh, I dunno, Morgan?" asked Pa Jones.

"No, Morgan's a piker 'side of this one."

"Well, if you mean public bankers, I suppose the Bank of England, maybe?"

"Nix. Far and away the biggest banker in the world today is your Uncle Sam as represented by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. It has handled more than $3,000,000,000 since Hoover established it in 1932."

This gigantic effort to get business and industry back on its feet is the first ever made by the U. S. government. In past panics and depressions the government always said such things were none of its business—that it had no right to meddle in the business situation at all.

Government To Rescue

But the failure of capital to

"It seems that half the country is in hock to the RFC now—railroads, banks, all kinds of business and industry."

keep business afloat in 1932 forced the government to take a hand or watch the ship sink.

It had to provide both the leadership that formerly came from men such as the elder J. P. Morgan, and the flow of capital itself, which nobody seemed to know how to start by the former methods. And it was President Hoover who stepped into the breach.

He formed the now-forgotten National Credit Corporation, a pool of $500,000,000 raised among banks in October, 1931, to aid by loans other banks whose assets were good, but which could not be sold except at too great sacrifice.

Loans Secret At First

By the end of 1932 it was clear that this was just a start, and the RFC was started as a $2,000,000,000 government corporation modeled after the War Finance Corporation, to make loans to banks and railroads, keep them operating, and out of bankruptcy. Loans at first were secret, on the theory that making them public would simply destroy confidence in the borrowing institution. But after Charles G. Dawes' Chicago bank borrowed $300,000,000 shortly after Dawes resigned as RFC head, it was decided to make loans public. (About a third of the Dawes loan has already been paid back by the way.)

Before the end of Hoover's term, the RFC had advanced a billion and a half to 7000 institutions, political units, and individuals, and had authorized loans of the other half billion. The Roosevelt administration broadened the RFC and enlarged it into what is today the greatest banking enterprise in history. Its life was extended to Feb. 1, 1935, after which it will probably be extended another year.

Pa Is Astounded

"Great grief!" cried Pa Jones. "It sounds to me like all going out and nothing coming in. That's a funny kind of banking!"

"It isn't that bad," assured John, Jr. "Here's some figures that I clipped out of the paper this afternoon."

"They show that more than two billions in these loans have come back to the RFC to be loaned again. For a while this summer it looked as though the railroads and banks, the biggest borrowers, had reached the crest; for a while they were paying back more than they were borrowing."

"Theoretically, it ought all to be paid back with interest, and Uncle Sam would make money on the deal, like any other banker."

"But of course some of it won't come back, because it was made on loans a bank wouldn't make. More than a billion dollars has been advanced for relief, paid to states on authorization of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration."

Some Of It's Gone

"A lot of that won't come back. I hope our state will pay back her loans, just as I'd expect to pay you back, Dad, if you helped me out in a tough spot."

"But I suppose some states won't do it. A lot of that relief money probably is sunk."

"But, gosh," exploded Pa Jones, "half the country is in hock to the RFC by now. Railroads, banks, all kind of businesses and industries."

"What if they don't pay? Isn't the government going to find itself owning a lot of defunct railroads and busted banks all of a sudden?"

"Well, maybe," admitted John, Jr. "Of course, like any other banker, the RFC loans this money to help the borrower get on his feet, in the hope that he'll succeed, and pay off. If he doesn't—"

"But look here," protested Pa Jones, getting a little red in the face. "The government is just like any other banker. When he loans money he takes an interest in the business."

Seems Sneaking To Pa

"You saw where Chairman Jesse Jones of the RFC insisted that a lot of borrowing companies trim down the salaries of their executives before he'd grant the loans. And where he forbade borrowing companies to pay out any profits in dividends until the RFC was paid."

"It seems to me that's sneaking into private business through the back door."

John, Jr., shrugged his shoulders. "Well, Dad would you think that a company that was so busted that it had to run to the government for funds ought to pay dividends before the loan was paid off?"

Becomes Biggest Banker

Thus, quite aside from its direct interest in more than 6500 banks through buying preferred stock or capital notes in them, the government through the RFC now has its fingers in many a private pie.

In addition to these capital loans, the RFC has made loans on assets to 2453 banks and trust companies to help depositors get quicker payment from "liquidation" of their assets.

The RFC has also been of vast assistance as bankers to other government agencies. It has advanced more than $700,000,000 to the various agricultural banks, to the Public Works Administration, and to the federal departments when they have a big buying job to do, like the recent heavy purchase of drought cattle, or cotton, or hogs.

Thus the RFC, which started as a cautious effort to help bolster up faltering banks, has become itself the biggest bank in history, and the outcome is yet to be seen.

Coast Cities Plan Elaborate Yule Light Display

PRIZES TO BE PRESENTED FOR BEST SHOWING

Details of an elaborate Christmas lighting program for Orange county coast line communities were discussed at a joint conference meeting of representatives of various beach cities held here last night at the chamber of commerce, Dr. C. G. Huston, of Costa Mesa, president of the Orange County Coast Association, presiding.

It was announced that five stations, KREG of Santa Ana, KNX of Hollywood, KFOX of Long Beach, KMPC of Beverly Hills, and KGER of Long Beach, have offered to broadcast the Orange county Christmas lighting event in connection with specially arranged programs.

Dr. Huston announced the appointment of a tentative committee on trophies and prizes for the best showing made by communities, business houses and individual homes in way of decorative and lighting effect, composed of the following members: Dan Mulholland, San Clemente; Donald Leyden, Dana Point; W. Watkins, Three Arches; Luther F. Mallow, Laguna Beach; Henry Ford, Costa Mesa; Harry Welch, Newport Beach; A. W. Frost, Huntington Beach; Elmer Hughes, Seal Beach; and Sam Lewis, Sunset Beach. Judging is to be made December 22nd.

It was decided that awards of trophies and prizes be limited to outdoor lighting, and that no indoor features, displayed behind windows or glass doors be considered. However, the hope was expressed that every house along the coast boulevard be lighted up for the occasion, and that every home-owner make an effort to contribute towards the general community illumination—if by nothing more than a candle in a window.

Individuals going in for special lighting features, wishing the same to be inspected by the judges of awards, are requested to register the same at the chamber of commerce of their respective communities, it was announced. Moreover, it was suggested by the joint committee that all lighting fixtures be installed and lighted not later than Friday evening, Dec. 21, the judging to be made the following night.

AGRICULTURAL CENSUS TO BE STARTED SOON

Employment of local enumerators for the government's 1935 census of agriculture is expected shortly, according to Charles Fallert, in charge of the national re-employment bureau here, who today announced receipt of information from the Department of Labor that the census would commence soon.

The state will be divided into census districts, said Fallert's announcement, supervisors of census to be named in each district. These supervisors will select the enumerators in their districts, to make the census of farms in that district.

Requirements for enumerators were outlined as: legal residents of the district; men and women of good character, between the ages of 25 and 60; with elementary education, and able to read, and to write legibly with reasonable speed. Only one member of a family will be employed.

Preference will be given, it was stated to farmers, their wives, sons or daughters. Preference within such group will be given to war veterans.

Plan Revealed To Get Cash to Buy Christmas Gifts

"The gift problem in thousands of California homes has been solved for this Christmas by the terms of the National Housing Act," Fred G. Merker, district manager for Southern Counties Gas company, said today.

"Literally hundreds of homes," he continued, "women have been obliged to use stoves which have become obsolete through years of service and in a great many instances the purchase of a modern, automatic refrigerator has been postponed 'until times get better.' Now—under the provisions of the National Housing Act, new and modern gas ranges, Electrolux natural gas refrigerators, water heaters and house heating equipment may be installed at once on the easy payment terms which are a part of this new government loan system."

"Southern Counties Gas Company, through all of its offices in Southern California, is cooperating with the federal government in bringing information regarding this new plan to the attention of its customers. Those who desire to obtain new equipment for their homes under the liberal provisions of this federal legislation and who want to present the family with a new gas range, a new gas refrigerator or heating equipment as a Christmas gift will find the 'gift problem' for the family solved this year."

To meet the expected demand, the gas company has just placed in stock fresh shipments of the newest models of gas ranges and other modern natural gas equipment. These are now on display at the company's offices and will be demonstrated upon request by company representatives at the shopper's convenience.

Sea Serpent Is Just an 'Overripe' Basking Shark

Copyright, 1934, Wrathall's.

Just when British Columbia was all agitated over finding of a "sea serpent," a joy killer came along in the person of Biologist W. A. Clemens of Nanaimo, B. C., and exploded the idea. He proved that the 30-foot carcass shown here at Prince Rupert, B. C., was merely a "ceterhinus maximus," otherwise a wax-nosed or basking shark. The creature was described as having a skin like sandpaper, a head like a horse, and hide covered partly by hair and partly by spine-like quills. It had been dead for two months, as the small boys in the picture indicate by holding their noses.

COMPLAINT FILED AGAINST USE OF OUTSIDE LABOR ON WORK AT NEWPORT HARBOR

Complaint that outside labor is being employed on the Newport Harbor development project was laid before the county supervisors yesterday, bringing assurance from the board that the matter would be investigated and, if the complaint is verified, an attempt made to restrict labor to Orange county workers.

It was understood that only local labor would be employed at the harbor, except for a few "key" men of the contractors' organizations.

The jetty contracts have been awarded by the government to the Rohl-Conley company, and action on the dredging contract was scheduled to be announced today, following a hearing before the war department engineers in Washington yesterday.

The labor complaint was brought to the board yesterday by A. H. Hall of Newport Beach.

Approval of the appointment by the grand jury of R. D. Crenshaw, Santa Ana auditing firm, as auditors for the 1934 grand jury was given by the supervisors. The auditors this year are employed at a flat rate of $2250, instead of on a per diem basis, as formerly.

Purchasing Agent F. W. Slabaugh was authorized yesterday to call for bids on a contract for supplying the county with road oil and street laquer for the year 1935. The city of La Habra was authorized to install neon lights at county intersections near La Habra; La Mirada avenue and Telegraph road; Whittier boulevard and Walnut street; Fullerton road and Central avenue.

Renewal of a pool-room license was granted to E. Salas of Anaheim R. D. 1. W. C. Mauerhan, director of the Orange County Water district, appeared before the board to suggest a survey be made of water use in the county, and data be maintained of the amount of water consumption by the individual pumpers, to determine and locate any waste of water in violation of the county water ordinance.

Members of the board raised the question whether such a step would be a proper function of the

REJECT PLEAS TO REFUND TAX BILL PAYMENTS

Attempts by Orange county property owners to gain refunds of more than $1500 in taxes on property used by public utility corporations which pay their taxes to the state, were rejected by the county supervisors late yesterday, when such demands were presented.

Nine refund demands, aggregating $1522.65, were filed on the ground that the utility corporation already had paid the tax on the property to the state.

The demands for refunds were as follows: Bank of America and First National Bank of Santa Ana, for property in Santa Ana used by the Southern Pacific company, $609.47. The total tax paid on this property was $857.82.

Bank of America, for property in Santa Ana used by the Santa Fe and Western Union, $249.14. The total tax paid on this property was $4152.36.

L. W. Briggs, for property in Newport Beach used by the Edison company, three demands for $64.63, $48.26 and $65.97.

John E. and Sara N. Whitfield, for property in Huntington Beach used by the Edison company, $196.25.

E. H. Peterkin, for property in Brea used by the Southern Counties Gas company, $18.64.

Charles F. Smith, for property in Santa Ana used by the Union Pacific company, $249.09.

Percis H. Ainsworth, for property in Orange used by the Edison company, $30.20 (first installment).

HEALTHIEST GIRL AND BOY SELECTED

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Doris Louise Paul of Iowa and Leland Monasmith of South Dakota today were named the healthiest girl and boy in the nation.

They were chosen for national honors at a 4-H club contest held in connection with the International Livestock show here.

Miss Paul is from Wilton Junction in Muscatine county, Iowa, and young Monasmith comes from Lane, South Dakota, in Jerauld county. The two winners were among 1400 who came to the exposition to take part in the annual 4-H club congress which is held jointly. The 1400 club members represent 925,000 members of the club in America.

The winners were judged on the basis of physical perfection after intensive examination by medical specialists.

KILL 100 RATS HERE DAILY IN SERA PROJECT

The final resting place of rats, whether it be called heaven or otherwise, has just received an increase of population of more than 1700 inhabitants, following the first 14 days' work under an SERA rodent control project in Santa Ana.

A crew of 18 to 20 men has averaged more than 100 rats per day, which measure up to 16 inches in length from nose to tail tip. Most of the extermination has been in the business district, although calls are being received daily at the county health department for individual trap settings at homes.

The men on the crew work four days per week and make daily inspections of the 300 traps being used here, according to County Health Inspector E. E. Frisbie, who is supervising the project. The value of trapping the rodents is shown by statistics given by Frisbie, which estimate that each rat eats one-half cent of food per day and that it costs $185,000,000 per year to feed the rats in the United States which does not include property damage, fire or disease.

The men working in Santa Ana are part of a county project on which 80 men are employed.

Police News

Vincent Mogart, 27, Fallbrook, was booked at the county jail yesterday by Chief A. J. Collins of La Habra for drunkenness and disturbing the peace.

Floyd Sparks, 40, and Ralph West, 30, of Hermosa Beach, were jailed yesterday by federal officers on counterfeiting charges.

Jose Villaseos, 37, Artesia, charged with non-support of a minor child, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff James Musick and jailed yesterday.

Louis Medina, 26, 911 East Walnut street, was arrested for drunkenness near his home last night.

Firestone Tire Retreading Now Available Here

Southern California's newest industry was announced today by Leonard K. Firestone, vice president and sales manager of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company on the Pacific Coast.

Firestone Service Store has established a retreading division at the Firestone Los Angeles factory.

"The finest retreading equipment has been installed to complete the service of our dealers to their customers," he said. The new tire retreading division is already working 24 hours a day to meet the demands of car owners for this new factory controlled retreading.

When the casing arrives at the factory it is carefully inspected. Only those satisfactory for retreading purposes are accepted. All tread rubber is buffed from the tire body and it is sent to a drying room. The new tread stock is then applied in preparation for vulcanizing in the molds.

"It is at this stage of retreading that great improvement is accomplished by having the new division located in the factory," Mr. Firestone said. "In this new department, we have installed factory methods of steam-controlled keeping temperatures at just the right degree throughout the vulcanizing process."

The retreads of Firestone dealers using this new service will be finished in appearance since all retreaded tires will be put on a finishing machine, coated with tire paint, wrapped and labeled.

This new industry will have a capacity of approximately 150 tires per day and will employ 18 men. The personnel will consist of trained vulcanizers who have had long experience in Firestone factory methods. A complete stock of retreads is carried in Santa Ana at Firestone Service Stores at First and Main streets. Motorists may also bring their worn tires to be retreaded here.

and was booked at jail by Officers Jess Buckles and F. L. Grouard.

Arrested at Fourth and French streets, Charles F. Jones, 52, 3164 North Birch street, was jailed for drunkenness last night by Officers Buckles and Harry Prichard.

OPERETTA CAST FROM LATHROP TO GIVE PLAY

Climaxing rehearsals for the past several months, more than 100 students in the cast of the Lathrop Junior High school operetta, "An Old Spanish Custom," will present public performances Thursday and Friday afternoons and Friday night in the Willard Junior high school auditorium on North Rose street.

The matinee showings of the colorful operetta will be for school children principally. The production is directed by Miss Edith Cornell, assisted by Mrs. Maxine Bryte, and gay costumes will add to the effectiveness of the play.

The parts in the play and those in the cast portraying them include Katherine Darling, played by Mildred Smith, Beatrice Thorne by DeVern Lambert, Stanley Darling by Milton Elzea, Maria Patrona by Beulah Cairns, Wilhelmina Day by Juanita Marlborough, Silas Day by Harold Hunsaker, Don Jose, Ramon Rivrona by Robert Heath, Patrick Murphy by Jack Nelson, Maggie Murphy by Josephine Birkell and State Police Officer by Jay Burton.

Christmas Party And Dinner to Be Held by Oil Men

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—Announcement of the annual banquet and Christmas "link" of the California Oil and Gas association, which will be held on December 19 in the Biltmore Hotel, have just been mailed to 1500 California oil men. This affair, which is the California industry's one opportunity each year to get together on a social basis, is expected to be better attended this year than ever. The features of the evening will be an original play, "An Ode to a Code," staged by the association's Wildcat committee and depicting oil conditions on the super-civilized planet Mars.

Junior Ebell Members Enjoy Evening of Bridge

Holiday joy and festivity were expressed Monday night in appointments for Junior Ebell society's Christmas card party in the clubhouse lounge.

Miss Boyd Joplin, Miss Mary Sadley, Mrs. Leland Auer, Mrs. Edmund West, Mrs. Lloyd Shearer and Miss June Arnold, all wearing pretty party frocks, were on the hostess committee. They served a dessert course of frosted cakes topped with tiny red or white candles to precede card play. Plants in pots wrapped in gray red paper and ribbons served a double purpose, first as centerpieces and later as table prizes when bridge scores were checked. Nuts and candies were served throughout the evening.

Cards used in playing were provided for the occasion by Miss Lydia Fisher.

A very short interval was given over to business matters, with Mrs. Don Park presiding. Since the next meeting would fall on New Year's day, plans were made to meet on the evening of Wednesday, January 3, 1935.

Assyrian to Address Musical-Arts Club

Securing Pharo Behannesey as speaker, Musical Arts club today announced program plans for its meeting Friday noon at James' cafe, where luncheon will be served. Mr. Behannesey is an Assyrian who makes his home in Hollywood, where he is a merchant. Much in demand as a speaker, one of his previous appearances in this city was before the Rotary club. In addition to his talk there will be vocal solos by Frank Pioro, accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong.

Auxiliary Committee Works on Prizes For Christmas Party

With numerous tables already engaged for American Legion Auxiliary's annual benefit party Friday night at 8 o'clock in Veterans' hall, committee workers anticipate a success even greater than has been achieved in previous years.

Meeting Monday night with the general chairman of the party, Mrs. George Sullivan, 728 Orange avenue, committee members worked on prizes for the event. These include handsome articles to serve as table prizes and high prizes in each of four games to be played, auction and contract bridge, 500 and pinocle. In addition, there will be a grand award, a cedar chest filled with a variety of household articles.

The committee made plans to have card playing cease at about 10:30 o'clock Friday night, so that dancing may be enjoyed for the remainder of the evening. Refreshments will be served.

At the close of the meeting in her home, Mrs. Sullivan served refreshments. Her guests included Mesdames Ann Leimer, Ruth Anderson, Kay Rasmussen, Ann Souder, Inez Halber, Dorothy Tubbs, Emma Penn, Mary Adrian. Tickets for a nominal sum may be obtained from any members of the committee, or reservations may be made by telephoning Mrs. Sullivan at 1066W.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Ann's Devil's Food Cake

1-2 cups white sugar
1-2 cup butter or substitute
2 eggs, whites beaten stiff
1-2 cups cake flour
3-4 cup sweet milk
1 level tsp. soda
4 Tbsps. cocoa dissolved in 2 tbsps. hot water
1 tsp. vanilla
Pinch of salt

—Contributed.

Cream sugar, shortening and egg yolks, add dissolved cocoa and beat well, sift flour with soda and salt and alternate with milk in mixing, beating the butter well. Add vanilla, fold in stiffly beaten whites and bake in two layers or as a sheet cake, in a moderate oven.

Put together with a powdered sugar chocolate icing, similar to the one used with Monday's cake. The ingredients call for 2 cups sifted powdered sugar, 1 unbeaten egg, 3 Tbsps. powdered cocoa, and 1-4 Tbsp. melted hot butter. Beat all together until creamy and spread while cake is still hot.

With icing, this cake has a caloric total of approximately 4400. A slice 1-2 inch thick, and not very long (2-3 inches) has a caloric value of 100.

Thursday: Pfannen Kuchen (prune cake) and Frozen Cheese Salad will be the recipes.

Amistad Class

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown, entertaining First Methodist Amistad class in their home, 1927 South Sycamore street, were joined in host duties by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rockwell.

There was the usual short business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Jack Snow, after which cards were played for the remainder of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Marks and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shannon held first and second high scores and were awarded prizes.

As a conclusion to their hospitality, Mr. and Mrs. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Rockwell served salad, sandwiches and coffee at the card tables, attractively arranged for the interval.

This class gave generously to a Thanksgiving basket sent to a needy family for the holiday.

Members present for the recent party in addition to the hosts were Messrs. and Mesdames William Brown, Fred Hein, Earle Kent, George Lawrence, Delbert Lewis, Ted Lawrence, Cecil Marks, Jack Robinson, Jack Snow, Charles Townsend, J. Floyd Vale, George Yance, Louis Shannon and Mrs. Fae Rowe.

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Dinner

1 cup "tomato cocktail" bouillon
2 Tbsps. baked beef hash with 1 poached egg
6 Tbsps. sweet and sour cabbage
1 celery heart
1-2 grapefruit, no sugar
Clear tea, or black coffee.
Calory total, 400.

When you are caught off base and want soup in a hurry, have you ever tried heating some of the tomato juice cocktail stored in your refrigerator? (I hope.) It makes swell clear broth. Add a little butter or put a teaspoonful of whipped cream in the bottom of each soup cup before serving the soup.

Sweet and sour cabbage: Shred and cook a head of cabbage 10 minutes. Drain, put in a double boiler and dress with lemon juice, add sugar and salt until the taste pleases you. Then make it rich and creamy by adding a little mayonnaise... the mineral oil diet mayonnaise, of course.

I would like to hear from a few of the Ploosingly Plumps who are trying this slimming diet. Of course, I don't expect to hear startling stories of loss of weight. It isn't planned for that, but I would like to know whether or not the menu satisfy the average appetite. Technically, this is described as the "satiety point," to you and me, that means a meal that stays by you and keeps you comfortable until the next meal is coming up. How about it?

Beef Soup With Okra

1-2 pounds round steak, sliced
1 medium onion, sliced and fried in 2 Tbsps. butter
2 quarts cold water
1 pint sliced okra (or a 2 1-2 can)
Tomatoes, 1 cupful, if desired.
Salt and pepper.

Cut the steak in dice and brown in the butter. Remove steak and onion to the onion. Put steak and onion in a kettle with 2 quarts of cold water and simmer for an hour. Add salt and pepper and a pint of sliced fresh okra, or a large can of canned okra. Simmer for 3 hours. A small can of tomatoes may be added if this flavor is liked. Strain before serving, pressing the vegetables through the sieve.

Holiday Carnival Adds Gay Party to Week's Social Affairs

Balloons in jewel colors swayed like magic clusters of grapes from every chandelier in Ebell peacock room, as crowds of merry-makers trod lively dance measures last night at the gala affair with which the Women's Auxiliary to Church of the Messiah brought its holiday carnival to a close. Peacock room and foyer alike, were garlanded with festoons of bright crepe paper, and even the massive moose head which was George Briggs' gift to Ebell society, wore its wreathed balloons like a playful satyr. The decorative effect was planned by the Misses Isabel and Betty Bondley.

The carnival was given in lieu of the auxiliary's annual Christmas bazaar, and opened with an afternoon card party which taxed the capacity of the peacock room. Guests gathered early in order to visit the booths ranged along walls of the foyer. One of the most popular of these was the fishpond, patronized by practically every guest. Mrs. Frank Lansdown, general chairman, wearing charming colonial costume, and other women of the auxiliary, received the guests. These various hostesses wore quaint costumes depicting various nations. Pretty gypsy maids carried trays of small articles and candies from table to table.

At the tea hour when crisp home-made cookies were served with tea, tables were centered with small potted cactus plants, and hordes of high score at each table was privileged to carry the quaint souvenir home with her.

Closing the afternoon entertainment was a fashion revue in which formal afternoon and evening gowns, wraps and suits from Katharine's, were modeled to piano accompaniment played by Miss Grace Corbin. Each costume had its correct footwear from Peterson's.

Evening Dance

Billie Nickles and her orchestra provided music for dancing in the evening hours, and at intervals were special program features introduced by Mrs. Paul Bailey.

Young People's Fellowship of the church sang "Love in Bloom" and "Old Spinning Wheel" quite charmingly. Members had donned colorful costumes for the occasion. The Junior College quartet, Dick Key, Jack Kunnels, Cleo Smith and Bill Friend, accompanied by Miss Alice Compton, sang numbers including "The Green Eyed Dragon" and "Old Man River" to the interest of the guests.

Miss Betty Bondley, accompanied by Miss Grace Corbin at the piano, presented two graceful solo dances, a Gypsy dance and a ballet. Mrs. Vernon Clayton concluded the program with her delightful solos, "Ask the High Stars," "La Gioconda," and "An Old Guitar and an Old Refrain." She was accompanied by Mrs. Jane Bethea of Laguna Beach.

Punch and cookies were served.

A DOUBLE COLLAR TOPS A SMART SCHOOL FROCK

PATTERN 2041
BY ANNE ADAMS

AA 2041

It's topped by a double collar for double school-girl chic—the smart pleated dress sketched today. And what could be a more adorable design for those very important activities such as hoop-rolling, roller skating and sliding down the collar door? There'll be no strain on tender young backs and arms, either, because the half yoked bodice and the snugly cuffed sleeves are cut nicely full to allow for all the movement so necessary to the health and happiness of our spirited young things. Short sleeves, by the way, are indicated in the pattern, and, if you prefer, either of the collars may be omitted in making up the dress.

Pattern 2041 is available in sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12. Size 10 takes 3 7-8 yards 36 inch fabric and 1-4 yard contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

Auxiliary Hears Talk On Preventive Dentistry

Election of officers and a talk by Dr. Cassius Paul were of interest to members of Orange County Medical auxiliary at their monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. G. W. Olson, 215 Buena Vista, Fullerton.

Since the time for the annual election has been changed from December to April, officers named will serve until spring. They include three who were re-elected to office, Mrs. H. G. Huffman, president; Mrs. D. C. Cowles, vice-president; Mrs. K. H. Sutherland, secretary. Mrs. Olson was chosen treasurer to succeed Mrs. Paul Esslinger.

Hostesses at the meeting were Mrs. Olson and Mesdames E. L. Russell, C. S. O'Toole, Charles Petty and G. A. Paige.

Dr. Paul's talk was on "Preventive Dentistry." He brought out that the modern trend in dentistry is toward prevention of decay. He stressed the importance of dental hygiene in the pre-natal period and early childhood; of regular examinations; of prompt treatment on detecting gum disorders; of frequent and thorough cleansing of the teeth; of proper diet. Illustrating the main points of his talk, Dr. Paul displayed X-rays.

Mrs. Ray Green and Mrs. Olson reported on a recent trip to the Ruth Home at El Monte.

At the refreshment hour, Mrs. O'Toole and Mrs. Russell poured tea from a table centered with a blue bowl of shrubby branches brushed with silver. White tapers were in blue candlesticks.

Girl Reserves Have Taffy Pulling

The home of Miss Barbara Rowell, 2103 North Ross street, was the scene of a recent merry event when Miss Rowell entertained members of Numukala Girl Reserves at a taffy pulling.

The taffy was a success and the fun of cooking and completing the candy was sufficient entertainment, although the hostess introduced games and other amusements.

Present with Miss Stearns, Girl Reserve adviser, and her guest, Miss Johns, were Barbara Rowell, hostess, Evelyn Stevens, Ramona Schlund, Phyllis Paine, Barbara Jennings, Dorothy Thurmond, Donaletta Minter, Marian Mastick, Thelma Lambert, LaVonne Wells, Derinda Bonner and Charlotte Philbrook.

Stanford Women's Club Plans Rummage Sale

Meeting last night at the Doris Kathryn, members of Stanford Women's club of Orange county made plans to stage a rummage sale Friday and Saturday, December 7 and 8, at the former Farmers' and Merchants bank building, Fourth and Broadway.

Proceeds from the event will go to the club's scholarship fund to be used in sending a student to Stanford university.

Plans were made to have the next meeting Monday, January 7, at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Miss Thelma Patton, 1103 North Broadway. Dessert will be served to precede other features of the evening. Election of officers will take place. Co-hostesses with Miss Patton will be Mrs. Mabel Dixon, president, and Mrs. J. Parley Smith.

Throughout the evening, under the supervision of the dance committee, Mesdames W. E. Hellis, Charles Swanner, T. E. Stephenson, E. D. White, Paul Bailey and Lloyd Chenoweth.

Fortune telling was one of the most popular carnival features.

Announcements

First Baptist Women's Bible class members are to meet next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Bowers' Memorial museum, where they will have their annual Christmas party. Mrs. M. E. Ward, Mrs. George Mullis and Mrs. Minnie Graham will be hostesses and will serve refreshments as the afternoon draws to a close. There will be the customary gift exchange with a ten-cent limit on the gifts.

Northwest section of First Presbyterian Ladies Aid will meet Friday at 2 p. m. in the home of Mrs. J. R. Medlock, 820 North Main street. Members are asked to bring canned foods to be distributed among the needy.

Aid Circle No. 1 of St. Peter Lutheran church will give a public chicken dinner tomorrow from 5 to 7 p. m. in the church, West Sixth and Garvey street.

Community Players who are accustomed to reserving the first Thursday night of the month for the meetings in The Barn, are reminded that this month's meeting has been advanced to the date of December 20. This will be the annual Christmas program and will be in Bowers Memorial museum at 8 o'clock. The date of December 11 was first selected, but the committee decided on the later date as being more in keeping with the season and avoiding conflict with other events.

Quill Pen club members are to hold their annual Christmas party in connection with their meeting next Tuesday night at 7:45 o'clock with Mrs. E. B. Marshall, 1915 Spurgeon street. Names are being drawn for the 25-cent gift exchange. Program features will be confined to the season and members having short stories or verse on a Christmas theme have been asked to bring such contributions.

The Home Nursing and Hygiene class conducted each Wednesday night in Room 214, Willard Junior High school by Mrs. Ellen Smith, will devote the next three meetings to care of infants and preschool age children. This adult education class meets from 7 to 9 o'clock.

The Adult Education Thursday night lecture series at Willard school will introduce as speaker this week, Terrance Holloran, Orange County SERA director. He will speak on "SERA Projects in Orange County" and there will be music by SERA musical groups. The program is from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

Ebell Music Art and Drama section will meet Friday at 2:30 p. m. in the clubhouse lounge. Christmas stories, poetry and music will make up the program.

Girl Reserves Have Taffy Pulling

The home of Miss Barbara Rowell, 2103 North Ross street, was the scene of a recent merry event when Miss Rowell entertained members of Numukala Girl Reserves at a taffy pulling.

The taffy was a success and the fun of cooking and completing the candy was sufficient entertainment, although the hostess introduced games and other amusements.

Present with Miss Stearns, Girl Reserve adviser, and her guest, Miss Johns, were Barbara Rowell, hostess, Evelyn Stevens, Ramona Schlund, Phyllis Paine, Barbara Jennings, Dorothy Thurmond, Donaletta Minter, Marian Mastick, Thelma Lambert, LaVonne Wells, Derinda Bonner and Charlotte Philbrook.

YOU and Your Friends

Mrs. F. D. Hawkinson, 412 West Second street, has returned from a holiday visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hawkinson at Upland. Her hosts came after her and brought her home, taking two different scenic routes.

Miss Carrie Quinn, former postmistress at Wells, Minn., has arrived for an extended winter visit with her sister, Mrs. Ella Quinn Avery, 502 South Broadway.

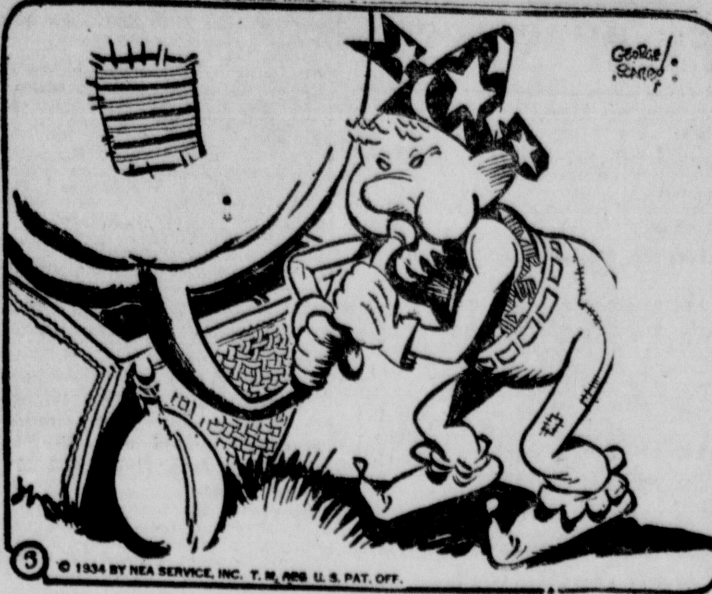

Roscoe Harrison, of White Pigeon, Mich., arrived last night via rail for a visit with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hazen, McFadden street. En route west he stopped for a visit with his sister, Miss Mary Harrison at Albuquerque, N. M.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAL COCHRAN—ILLUSTRATED BY KING

The Tinymites joined hands and then it pleased the happy giant when they started dancing round him. He exclaimed, "Please sing a song."

"Real soon you will be leaving here, so try and fill me full of cheer. I'll miss you tots. I'm sorry that I cannot go along."

"Why can't you go?" asked Goldy.

"Gee, you'd be as welcome as could be!" "I know," replied the giant, "but my place always is here."

"You see if I should leave this spot, something would happen, like as not. Another giant might walk in and seize this place, I fear."

The Tinies then began to sing. Real loud they let their voices ring. "Hurray for Mister Giant. He has been a fine old friend. We've seen his castle through and through, and we've had lots of things to do. We're sorry that our visit shortly must come to an end."

The giant then said, "Thank you for the praise. Now, kindly sing some more." Just then, however, Mister Mystic Man came into view.

Said he, "Now, tots, please end your play. You shortly will be on your way to wonderful Toy Land, where you will find new things to do."

"I found a big balloon, and I will quickly blow it 'way up high. If I run out of breath, of course I'll have to call for aid."

"I found a dandy basket, too. I'm sure it will hold all of you. We'll make sure that it's safe and sound. You need not be afraid."

The blowing started. What a sight! The Mystic Man, with all his might, forced air into the big balloon. Soon Goldy shouted, "Stop!"

And then she added, with a smile, "I think you'd better rest a while. If you keep puffing your cheeks out, I know they're going to pop."

EL MODENA

EL MODENA, Dec. 5.—Miss Mabel Culter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Culter, of East Chapman avenue, who recently underwent a major operation in a Pasadena hospital, is getting along nicely.

Stanley Kurtz, principal of the Lincoln school in El Modena, is confined to his home by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Schaffert and children, Roscoe and Lorraine were recent dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Schaffert.

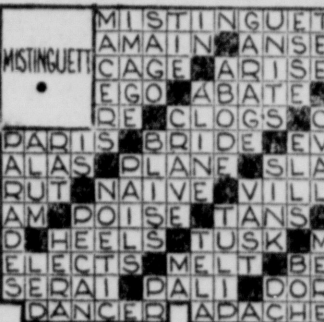

Oscar and Alvin Stanfield have returned from a visit with relatives in Calexico. The home of their brother, Stanley Stanfield, and family was completely destroyed by fire a few days ago. The Stanley Stanfields are former residents of this section.

THE PACIFIC DEFIANT

At this writing hope of finding the three flyers who, on their Australian-ward trip, came down on the Pacific near the Hawaiian islands, has been all but abandoned.

It is very probable that the reason for their failure to reach the islands will never be known. The instruments used to direct the course of airships across the broad expanse of ocean, must be practically unerring in their accuracy, to insure the locating of such a relatively small object as even the islands themselves.

How much more difficult it is, therefore, for the airplanes and vessels to find this unfortunate airship which would make a spot only seventy feet in extreme length.

The truth is the finding of it would be practically an accident in itself. Lieutenant Charles P. Uhm, who was the chief man on the trip, was the assistant navigator over this same route with Kingsford-Smith in the flight of the Southern Cross. It is possible, says the airplane engineers, for the plane to stay aloft until tomorrow night, because of the buoyant power of the empty gas tanks.

The exploits of brave and intrepid men challenge the interest and the admiration of the world. There have already been lost a number of heroic souls in their attempt to make Honolulu from our Pacific coast.

In a number of cases we never heard from them after their departure. But in this case we know at least that their fuel was sufficient, their machine performed well and it was simply their failure to determine their own whereabouts, so that they were unable to either direct their flight to the islands with accuracy, or to let rescuers know exactly the point at which to find them.

Such tragic misfortunes as this make us realize the courage of pioneers. In the future, undoubtedly, planes will be running on schedule to Hawaii, as they are now flying to Catalina, as many as the traffic will bear. The Pacific will be actually as immense then as it is now. It will only seem smaller and ironically enough it will seem smaller because of those who have challenged it and been defeated in these days in the process of conquering.

The world will wait with almost breathless anxiety news of their possible rescue.

RAISING THE STANDARD OF LIVING

Much is written about the low standard of living in other countries, and Americans pride themselves on their high standard of living. But that there is possible a much higher standard of living, among many of our people here in the United States, has been brought out in a survey made by the New Dealers of the living standards in fifty or more American cities.

Half of the city families as yet do not own an automobile and have no furnace in their homes; 10 per cent have no electric lights; 18 per cent have no private indoor water closets; 24 per cent have no bath tubs; 83 per cent have no electric refrigerators; 58 per cent have no heating stoves. Of course, many of the cities surveyed are in the south, and that may make some modification of the average possible. But the investigators, it is stated, paid but little attention to the Negro population.

This survey indicates a potential market for goods that would lift us out of the depression immediately, if only a distributive system could be devised as adequate as is our productive system. And when it is noted that this survey is confined to cities only, leaving the country towns also to be supplied with these same conveniences, it is clear that the American market has not yet begun to be developed to its normal capacity.

What we here in America need is a more perfect distributive system. With an improved planned economy, now for the first time in our history being tried, our people, to use the well-known saying of Dr. Johnson, may all become rich "beyond the dreams of avarice." At any rate, the capable and the deserving will all have the comforts and the conveniences they may desire.

SIGNIFICANT QUESTIONS

The Senate committee on banking has sent out a questionnaire to financial leaders all over the country, requesting opinions on money, credit and banking questions.

Some of the questions are very significant. They manifest evidence that congress may not be through with banking legislation. "Is there to be a government-owned and operated banking system?" is one of the questions. Another question is, "Is the power over the issuance of money to be vested in a non-political, privately-owned but government-chartered central bank, or in a government-owned and operated central bank?"

Such questions must give our big bankers the "creeps," for if such legislation as suggested were adopted, it would change the whole banking process of the country. It was thought that the banking fraternity had made its peace with the administration at the last meeting of the American Bankers' association. It was reported at that meeting, that the small bankers of the country voted almost unanimously against the peace terms as proposed, largely because they did not see what was in the offing as did the big bankers.

It was stated that the administration is not yet committed to central banking. The questions suggested in this questionnaire, however, show some interest on the part of our legislators in the matter.

That some changes in our banking system will be made is very generally an accepted belief. It may be that these questions are asked to frighten the big bankers to accept without opposition some of the lesser changes that may be made.

There was a good deal of opposition from the big bankers to the Securities act and to the Stock Exchange act, but they went through. With Congress constituted as it is at the next session, it would seem that some diplomacy and some caution would be advisable lest something worse might be thrust upon the leaders of finance.

THE CHACO WAR ENDS

The Bolivian people have at last called a halt to the war in the Chaco district with Paraguay over a littoral of territory which never could be of any great value to them.

In this long drawn-out and destructive war between two minor states, both of which are too poor to carry on any kind of a war, the Bolivian people have been the victim of a government much more interested in maintaining its pride than in serving its people.

The League of Nations has tried to mediate. The Pan-American Congress, which met last year in Montevideo, offered its good offices. But Paraguay refused any mediation which involved a loss of territory; and Bolivia, far from the territory it sought to possess, had its pride to sustain.

Now the Bolivian people have driven the president responsible for the war and its continuance from power, and a government has been inaugurated to make peace. The irresponsibility and the stupidity of governments is again attested in this useless and costly war.

Durians For America

San Francisco Chronicle

It was grief of Queen Victoria's old age that she had never tasted a durian. All other fruits of her dominion of palm and pine had been brought to Windsor, but the one described as the king of all fruits proved too perishable. The airplane came too late to help and she died with her durian longing unsatisfied.

By the same token, all efforts of government and science to introduce this almost fabulous East Indian fruit to other suitable parts of the world have failed. It should grow in Hawaii, the West Indies, Central America—but the seeds live only three or four days. That fact has balked the attempts.

Yet, though science and government have failed, the trick has been done. A durian is growing in the Americas. A single tree was found recently flourishing in Dutch Guiana. How did it get there? Nobody knows. This much only is known. The Dutch planters in Guiana have in recent years imported thousands of Javanese laborers. Some Javanese coolie, apparently, has outdone the scientists and has succeeded in bringing a live durian seed or seedling to Guiana. For there the tree is, a healthy immigrant, and there seems no other possible explanation.

From Guiana it should be possible to spread it through tropical America and it may soon be easy for Americans to experience the marvels of the durian, which are described, according to varying tastes, as superdelights or superhorrors, but never anything in between.

Rediscovering Handel

Christian Science Monitor

Formal centenary and quarter-millenary celebrations are usually somewhat perfunctory, but the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birth of Handel promises to be an event of unusual interest. A determined effort is to be made to approach certain of the works of Handel in a new way which may lead to rediscovery of that great composer.

This searching is typical of the contemporary attitude toward classical works of art. The same cast of thought is revealed in Mr. Robert Graves' recent attempt to reinterpret in twentieth century terms Charles Dickens' "David Copperfield." It is seen in the current Russian presentation, after two years of preparation, of an amalgam of Shakespeare's "Antony and Cleopatra," Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra" and Pushkin's "Egyptian Nights."

It will be generally admitted that Handel is a peculiarly suitable subject for such experiments. His dramatic oratorios (not the "Mossiah") were really written for an ideal theater whose practical realization was denied him. The dramatic presentation which he himself was unable to get, the London Handel Society proposes to give him. Experiments in Cambridge and Munster have indicated that this method of approach leads to rich cultural rewards, and the Handel Society's proceedings will be watched with interest by musicians all over the world.

Judge Taught Boys How Important Are Trees

San Bernardino Sun

Two New Jersey boys were arrested not long ago for cutting down a tree in a park near their home. They were doing it just for fun, apparently.

The judge admonished them and then pronounced sentence. In atonement for their wrong-doing the boys were to return to the court a week later and recite Joyce Kilmer's famous—and overworked—poem, "Trees." They were also to show that they had a working knowledge of Theodore Roosevelt's essay on the subject of preserving trees, the one in which the late President set forth the principle that two trees should be planted whenever one was cut down.

It seems to be a punishment made to fit the crime. There might have been one more provision. The boys might well have been made to set out a tree, or two trees, to replace the one they had destroyed. This third point would have been doubly useful. It would have achieved the good work of setting trees planted, and it would also have given the boys wholesome, strenuous exercise. It is usually the lack of some constructive task to do, plus an excess of energy, that sets boys to such mischievous acts as tree-cutting.

It Happened in Oklahoma

Riverside Daily Press

We listen to a great deal of complaint from time to time about "coddling prisoners." Most of it we think is stupid and prejudiced. However, the state of Oklahoma has provided an excellent example of the sort of coddling that is really worth objecting to.

By releasing Mat Kimes, notorious bandit and killer, for a six day quail hunt, Governor Murray has certainly made himself most conspicuous. Kimes was ordered released without a guard. His attorney says that authorization came from the governor, who, he says, felt that Kimes was entitled to a leave of absence because of his excellent conduct while in the penitentiary.

It is gratifying, of course, to know that a desperado has been behaving himself well while in the prison. If he had behaved himself in the first place, it would not have been necessary to give him this six-day vacation.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A HYMN OF HATE

I haven't a go-getting complex,
I haven't a high pressure grip,
I don't feel the need
Of a breath-taking speed
When I run out my car for a trip;
But I cannot erect any solid stone wall
As high as the great one of Troy's
And so every day
I fall easy prey
To the hand-wringing go-getter boys.

I hive myself up in my office
But they always continue to break in;
I wear a fierce frown
But they sit themselves down,
Light fresh cigarettes and begin.
They offer me bonds, all of which are swell buys,
And when I repel their attack
And bid them go 'way
They cheerfully say:
"Well, a week from today, we'll be back."

I can't hide away like a hermit,
I have to just sit there and smirk,
I politely say "No!"
But they never will go
And let me get on with my work.
I wish I were huskier far than I am
With abundance of avoiddups,
For then I should rise
With a gleam in my eyes
And go-get those go-getting boys.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLEN FRANK

OUR TANGLE ON TRADE POLICY

One of the difficult problems confronting Mr. Roosevelt is the problem of giving life to the legislation that sought to free the hands of the government in the matter of effecting reciprocal trade agreements with other nations.

That was a singularly wise bit of legislation, but it has been virtually a dead letter, despite the ardent efforts of Mr. Peek and his able colleagues.

It has been largely a grant of unusable power because the State Department finds itself bound by the "most favored nation" principle which blocks that intelligent "horse trading" which, at the moment, seems the only technique that stands any show of getting action in the foreign trade field.

Mr. Hull has his old mandate. Mr. Peek has his new mandate. The two do not jibe.

Without refreshing my memory I do not, at the moment, know the exact extent of the difficulties in the way of making them jibe. But this much seems clear to me. We cannot afford to permit idealistic generalities to stand in the way of practical moves to get world trade going as fully as the changed volume and variety of world production will permit.

I hope that Mr. Roosevelt will early ask the incoming Congress to clarify the reciprocal trade agreements legislation in a manner that will make it possible for Mr. Peek and his colleagues to make headway in the field they have been exploring with a steady intelligence.

And we cannot afford to lose time. Every month that we stay out of the world market further than necessity compels us are penalizing our future. If we let the cotton situation hang fire unduly, we may find our South an economic graveyard in a not far distant future. And this example can be duplicated in many other commodities.

DEAR MARIE: I noticed the other day that when a teacher called on you to read that you trembled and turned pale and then red and could scarcely speak above a whisper. That said to me, "The child is shy. I wonder what she is afraid of and why."

Shyness is fear. I guessed that you were afraid you would make a mistake, the teacher would correct you, everybody in the room would be listening and looking and you would feel like creeping into the mousehole. I wish I knew how to tell you that you need never feel like that again.

You can read quite as well as any other little girl. You might make a mistake and the teacher might correct it. What of it? The teacher expects you to make mistakes and she expects to help you with them. That is her work, and it is your way of learning. You try something new, you make a couple of mistakes, set them right, and after that you know how. There is nothing to be afraid of shy about if you could look at it that way.

It takes a lot of thinking of courses. Your present thought is a fear thought. It has taken hold in your mind because you let it. You didn't deny it when it rose up to thicken your tongue and pulse your hands. You just said, "Yes, I'm afraid she'll call on me. What will I ever do if she gives me the hard paragraph?"

When you feel fear taking hold like that, slam the door in its face as quickly as you can and say, "I'm not going to be afraid. I am going to be bold like the other children. I am intelligent. I can do this lesson. I can do anything I have to do. I KNOW I can," and keep right on saying this until you feel it taking root and every time you can gather strength to stand up straight and speak out loud to do it. Each time you win even a little power makes the next time easier.

Another thing you can do. Pick out a brave friend and be CHUMS. A good chum is half the battle. She or he will give you courage. Just being in the presence of courageous people makes one braver. Courageous people are usually friendly and kind. Don't chum up with that shrinking violet who sits behind the door and manages to keep at the end of the line and all that. Pick out the one who is always ready to try something even if success isn't always certain.

Learn to take a chance. Learn to laugh. Learn that we are all old and young alike, trying and failing and doing our best to stand up and recite in the presence of a roomful of better scholars than we are. That ought to give you some courage.

Then remember to eat your breakfast with its good cereal and fruit and milk. Play hard in the open air and take your share of the game along with your chum. Keep wanting and wishing and trying to be brave and the first thing you know you will be bold as a lion and twice as useful.
